BECOMING AN OSHER MEMBER

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute is a membership organization for adults 50 and over who understand that quality of life is enhanced through learning. You need not be an alumnus/alumna of UWM in order to join. Osher is the perfect way to expand your knowledge while joining more than 900 like-minded, active older adults.

Osher Member Benefits

• Attend short courses and lectures taught by UWM faculty, Osher members and other noted experts that explore a variety of thought-provoking topics
• Participate in Go Explore excursions to some of the most interesting places in the Greater Milwaukee area
• Enroll in peer-directed Special Interest Groups focused on a variety of subjects
• Receive discounts on travel programs to remarkable locations around the world
• Enjoy social events throughout the year
• Meet new friends who share a love of learning
• Keep up to date with the organization with the bi-monthly newsletter highlighting member profiles, future activities and events of interest
• Obtain a complimentary library card for the UWM Golda Meir Library
• Receive a membership directory

Become a Member

You must be a member of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at UWM to register for programs. If you have not joined Osher or renewed your membership, you may do so by including the membership fee with the registration form on pages 37-38, or visit our website at sce-osopher.uwm.edu. To verify your membership status, call the Osher office at 414-227-3320.

Annual membership is $45 per person. For couples or individuals living at the same address (whether spouses, siblings or partners) and requesting only one copy of mailed information, dues are $80.

Reciprocity with Other Osher Lifelong Learning Institutes

Members in good standing in another Osher group may pay the usual event fee and attend any Osher offering while visiting. Those who move here will be considered members until the next annual membership fee is due. They may then pay UW School of Continuing Education Osher dues and continue in good standing.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE

Registration

Once you’ve joined Osher, registration is required for program participation. Registration for any course or program is open until one week before the start date. However, classes fill up quickly, so we encourage you to register early.

Plato’s Vision of the Good  NEW!

For Plato, values such as justice, virtue and goodness are part of the very structure of reality. He conjectured that before we were born, our souls were acquainted with these values, but that most of us “forgot” them when we were born. With careful training we can “remember” the core values and live by their guidance.

PRESENTER
Carolyn Sweers earned a master’s degree in philosophy from Boston University and for 25 years taught philosophy and history courses at New Trier High School in Winnetka, Illinois. After retiring in 1994, Carolyn taught older adult education programs in the Chicago area and has been teaching for Osher over the past three years.

PRESENTERS
February 3
Kate Erd and Nathan Villa “Lure and Lore of Spices” Where do spices come from? What do they look like naturally? Did you know that some spices are actually more valuable than gold? Take a look at samples of natural and processed spices, and learn some facts, some fiction and some history. Manager of the Old World Third Street location, Kate Erd and assistant manager Nathan Villa will share their knowledge and enthusiasm.

February 10
Suzanne Hanks “Milwaukee Art Museum’s Art in Bloom” Explore the unique perspective floral designers bring to the visual arts on display in the Milwaukee Art Museum. Their floral interpretations of the art in MAM’s permanent collection offer new understanding and insight into the wonderful images displayed there. Suzanne Hanks has been a docent at MAM since 2009, and recently became a member of the MAM Garden Club.

February 17
Dale Gutzman “Romeo and Juliet Through the Ages” Dale Gutzman of Off the Wall Theatre details the adventures of having two actors in their 60’s playing the roles of Romeo and Juliet in his upcoming production of Shakespeare’s famous play. Learn about the magic of Shakespeare, how actors tackle the language and poetry, and consider the many hidden meanings in Romeo and Juliet. Dale Gutzman is the artistic director of Off the Wall Theatre. In addition to directing shows for His Majesty the King of Thailand, he directed two Shakespearean productions for The Odessa Russian Drama Theatre which toured Russia and the Ukraine. He also directed two-time Tony award winning actor Mark Rylance in Hamlet and Romeo and Juliet.

February 24
Glenna Holstein “Urban Ecology Center: Protecting and Connecting Urban Nature” The Urban Ecology Center strives to foster ecological understanding as inspiration for change. As the Menomonee Valley branch manager, Glenna Holstein delights in sharing how all three centers in Milwaukee provide outdoor science education for urban youth, protect and use public natural areas, preserve and enhance these areas and their surrounding waters, promote community, and practice and model environmentally responsible behaviors.

March 3
Pat Lafferty “I Wrote a Novel. Now What?” Find out what needs to be done after your novel is finished: a) get a manuscript up to industry standards; b) find an agent/publisher; and, c) navigate the overall publishing industry. Pat Lafferty is an award-winning advertising copywriter by day and a fiction writer by night. His religious thriller, Anno Domina, was published by All Things That Matter Press in 2012.
The Ethics of Drones  NEW!
This is your opportunity to explore social and ethical issues related to the use of drones, present and future. Class one: How do we make ethical decisions? Look at some of the major approaches, and apply them to a basic scenario, developing insight about how you make ethical decisions. Class two: How do drones work? See how this impacts our decisions about how we use them. Then use classes three and four to take a look at how we are using drones, and what ethical issues are attached to these uses, both military and non-military. Share your conclusions in small group discussion that centers on key issues.

PRESENTER

April 21

Eva Rumpf “Modifying the Truth With Historical Fiction” Is there a line between fact and fiction in historical novels? How can readers know if something really happened? Author Eva Augustin Rumpf will discuss how authors modify the truth in historical fiction, using examples from her new novel, In Liberty’s Name. Rumpf holds a bachelor’s degree in English and a master’s in journalism. She has worked as a reporter for the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel, a speechwriter for Mayor Henry Maier and a public relations manager.

April 28

Kathy Johnson “Travels to Iceland Past and Present” Ethel Alec-Tweedie traveled through Iceland on horseback as a young woman in the late 19th century, and describes the ventures in her book, A Girl’s Ride in Iceland. Compare her trip to the experience of tourists in Iceland in the 21st century. Kathy Johnson, a retired RN, enjoys traveling the world with her husband and vicariously seeing more of it through reading.

May 5

Paul Geenen “Schuster’s and Gimbels: Milwaukee’s Beloved Department Stores” Adam Gimbel built his flagship department store in downtown Milwaukee in the late 1800s, while Ed Schuster, along with Albert Friedman, built his stores in the city’s bustling neighborhoods. In those days, loyalty was very valued, with the common refrain, “I came to work Christmas and stayed 25 years.” Look back to Billie the Brownie, Me-Tik the Eskimo reindeer handler, Willie Wag Tail, Gimbie and Ellie, Gurtie the Duck, and other beloved memories from the stores’ 100+ year history. Paul Geenen is an author, retired entrepreneur, community activist and grandfather.

Subbaraman is a proud graduate of Duke University, he has lived and worked in France as a two-time Fulbright grant recipient, founded Opera Vista of Houston, was named one of Houston Press’ 100 Most Creative People, and received their MasterMind Award.

May 19

Carolyn Sweers “The Enlightened Mr. Hume” Scottish philosopher David Hume was one of the key figures in what is called the Enlightenment. Hume said we should take a look at what we really know and how we know it rather than relying on unsubstantiated theories about God, the soul or the origin of morality. In this lecture, excerpts from Hume’s writings present his case. Carolyn Sweers taught philosophy and history courses at New Trier High School in Illinois for 25 years. She has been teaching for Osher over the past three years.

OSHER LECTURE SERIES

Featuring prominent speakers on fascinating topics.

Friday Forum

Hear from two local experts about the latest developments in our educational system. After each presenter has spoken, engage in a lively discussion with all present. You are welcome to enjoy a lunch purchased from the school during the session.

PRESENTERS

Barbara Miner “Public Schools and Democracy: What Does the Future Hold?” In 1990, Milwaukee became the first city in the country with a voucher program, under which public tax dollars are provided to private schools. Milwaukee has more “choices” for education than perhaps any other major urban area with voucher schools, public schools, charter schools, open enrollment and Chapter 220, yet the city still has some of the greatest disparities in academic achievement between whites and African Americans. Why? Discuss the future of Wisconsin’s constitutional guarantee of the right to a free and public education.

Mary Diez “Standards and Assessments: Promise and Pitfalls” Education reform over the past 30 years has been marked by attempts to clarify what students should know and be able to do. How have standards – for students and for teacher practice – been developed and how have they impacted practice? How have assessments kept pace, or not, with emerging standards, and what new issues have they raised? Discuss what we have learned in 30 years and what future actions would best serve our children.
