University of Wisconsin--Milwaukee

Introduction

According to its mission statement, the primary purpose of the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee is to provide Wisconsin's largest metropolitan area with a major comprehensive doctoral university. In the fall semester of 1996 UWM served nearly 22,000 students with approximately 3,300 employees and a 1996-97 budget in excess of 274 million dollars. Given the size of the university and breadth of its mission, the student population and the programs in which they are enrolled are extremely diverse.

There are four distinct groups of students served by the University. Undergraduate students enrolled in baccalaureate degree programs make up the largest group comprising 70 percent of the student population. Graduate students enrolled in master's and doctoral degree programs represent 18 percent of the students. Undergraduate specials (undergraduate students not enrolled in degree programs) comprise ten percent and non-degree candidates in the Graduate School represent two percent. Within these groups there is also considerable diversity. See the Student Profile section for details.

A significant portion (44%) of UWM students attend school part-time.

There is considerable variation in the credit load carried by undergraduates. The average credit load for undergraduate students is 11.8, with 15% enrolling for six or less credits and 28% enrolling for 15 or more credits. Similarly, the average credit load for graduate students is 5.8, with 39% enrolling for three or less credits and 32% enrolling for eight or more credits. Forty-four percent of undergraduate special students are enrolled for three credits and 63% of non-degree candidates carry three credits. See the Credit Load section for details.

Forty-four percent of UWM students are employed while attending school. See the Student Employment Status section for details.

Eighteen percent of the total student population are enrolled exclusively in courses which meet in the evening. This includes 7% of the undergraduates, 41% of the undergraduate special students, 41% of graduates and 69% of the graduate non-degree students. Sixty percent of the evening student population is female. Evening students generate a total of 16,279 credits with an average credit load of 4.2, which constitutes 7.5% of the total credits at UWM. See the Evening Students section for details.

UWM serves a racially diverse population consisting of 8.1% African-American students, 2.1% Asian students, 1.2% Southeast Asian students, 0.8% Native American students, 3.5% Hispanic students, 81.2% White students and 3.2% Foreign students. Breakdowns by race appear in the Headcount Enrollment, Evening Student, and Degrees Granted sections.

Women represent 55% of the total student population at UWM. The percentage of women varies considerably by school/college, ranging from 14% in Engineering to 87% in Nursing. Women comprise 63% of the undergraduate special students and 67% of the non-degree candidates. Forty-six percent of female students and 42% of male students attend part-time. Breakdowns by gender appear in the Headcount Enrollment, Evening Student, and Degrees Granted sections.

The average age of all students at UWM is 27, ranging from an average of 24 for undergraduates to 37 for non-degree candidates in the Graduate School. See the Student Characteristics section for details.

UWM awards degrees in 81 different baccalaureate degree programs, 47 master's programs and 18 doctoral programs. In 1996-97, 2,270 bachelor's, 1,040 Master's and 101 doctoral degrees were awarded. See the Degrees Granted section for details.

Resident tuition increased 5.2% for undergraduates and 6.1% for graduates from 1995-96 to 1996-97. Financial aid awarded to UWM students also increased. Total financial aid accepted by UWM students increased from $51,598,370 in 1995-96 to $63,287,296 in 1996-97. This increase resulted from a 5% increase in grants and a 26% increase in loans. See the Grants, Loans and Fees section for details.

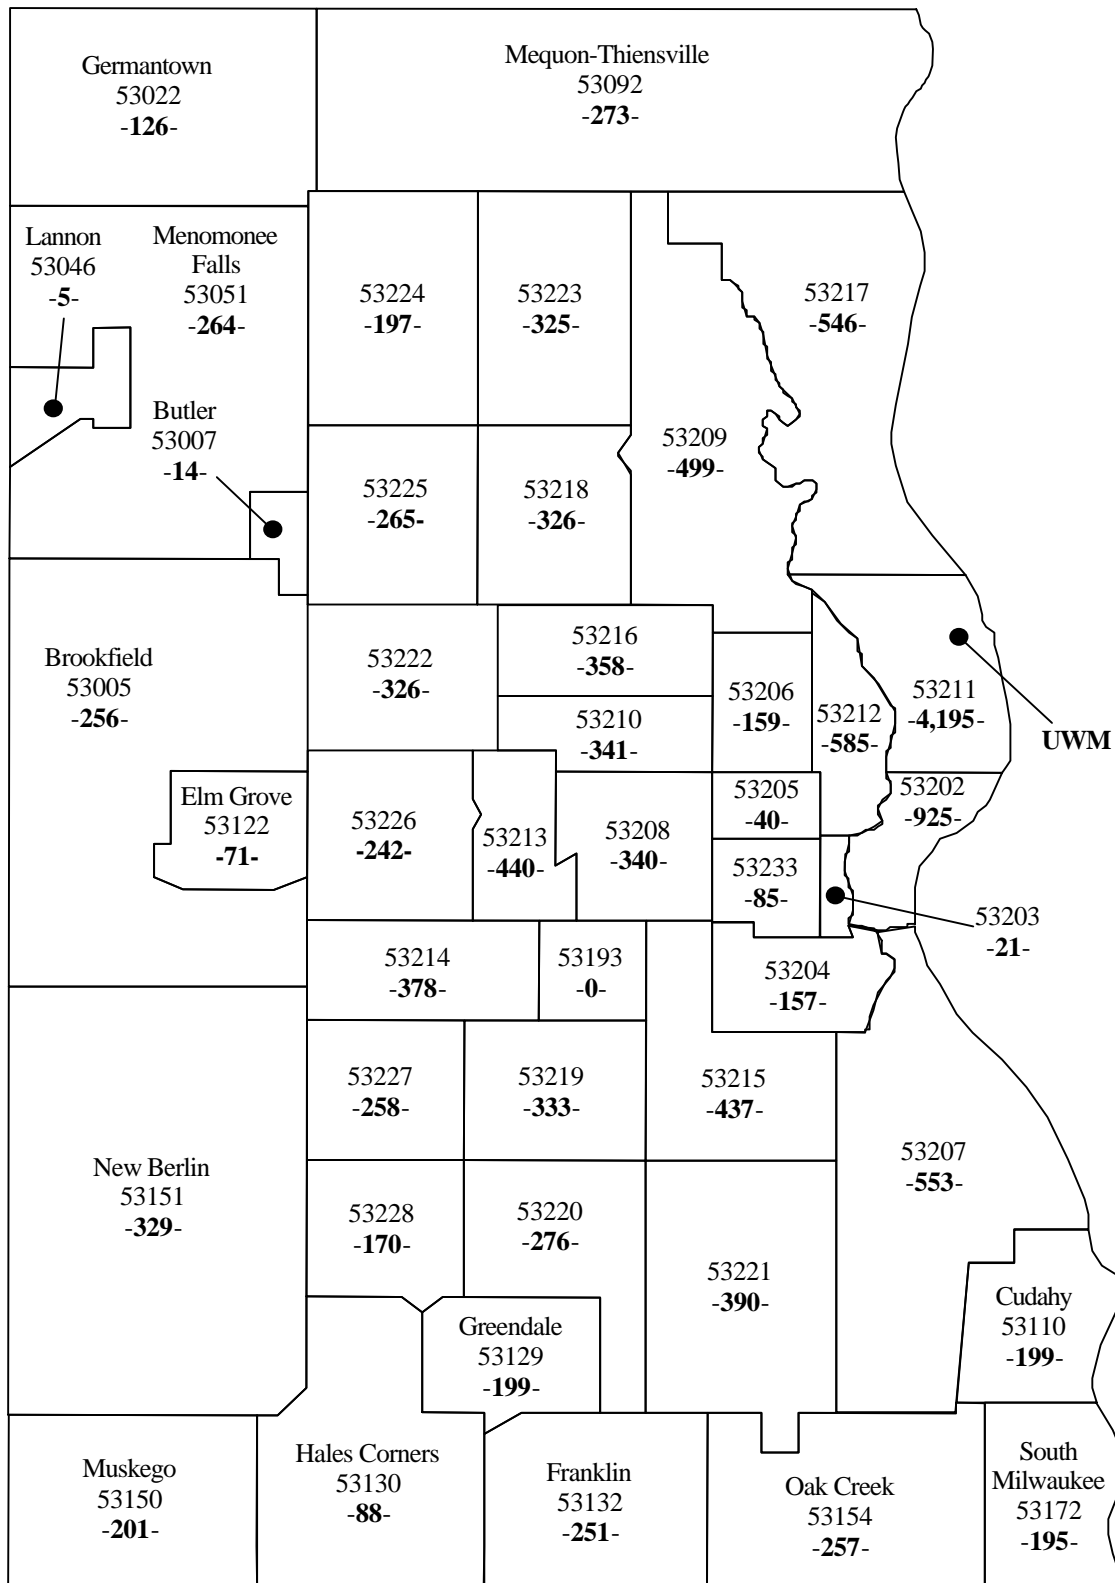

Total funding for UWM decreased by 1 percent from $276 million in 1995-96 to $274 million in 1996-97. 37.5 percent of the total came from state appropriations and the remainder came from student fees and other sources. See the University Budget Data section for details.

UWM had 3,298 full and part-time non-student employees on the October 1996 payroll. Of these 729 held ranked faculty appointments and 622 were instructional academic staff. See the Faculty/Staff Employment section for details.

UWM's main campus is located on 73 acres on the northeast side of the city of Milwaukee. The main campus contains over 2,700,000 total assignable square feet of space. See the Facilities section for details.

Financial Aid

Grants and loans have become increasingly important to students as resources to help finance educational costs. Each semester the Financial Aid Department at UWM assists thousands of students in obtaining funding from the grant or loan programs offered on campus.

Some grants or loans are specifically aimed at particular groups such as minorities, the disadvantaged, or the disabled. There are also those programs aimed at reaching students within a particular school or college. This summary does not include all of the different programs available to our students but it does cover the more widely used ones. To receive more explicit information about the availability of grants or loans, please contact the UWM Financial Aid Office.

Federal Pell Grant - Available to students while pursuing their first undergraduate degree. The grants range from $400 to $2,700 annually.

Federal Supplementary Educational Opportunity Grant (SEOG)- Available to the student until the undergraduate degree is received. These grants range from $200 to $800 annually.

Wisconsin Higher Educational Grant - Available only to undergraduate residents of Wisconsin. The grant ranges from $125 to $1,800.

Federal Stafford Loan (subsidized and unsubsidized) - Students who completed a financial aid application may have received a Federal Stafford Loan as part of their financial aid package. These loans are serviced through a bank, savings bank, or credit union. Freshmen may receive up to $2,625 annually. Sophomores may receive up to $3,500 annually. Juniors and seniors may receive up to $5,500 annually. Undergraduates may receive up to $23,000 cumulatively. Graduate students may receive up to $8,500 annually and $65,500 cumulatively. Borrowers must begin repayment six months after leaving college. Interest rates are variable and begin to accrue for subsidized loans at this time. For unsubsidized loans, borrowers pay the interest while in school. Beginning in 1995-96, the university participated in the Federal Direct Student Loan Program and no longer participated in the Stafford Program. Eligibility requirements and borrowing levels, however, will remain the same.

Federal Perkins Loan - These loans may total up to $15,000 for undergraduate education, and $30,000 for combined undergraduate and graduate education. Repayment and five percent interest are deferred until nine months after ceasing to be enrolled at least half time.

It must be noted that there is a significant difference between a loan and a grant. A loan is money borrowed from the lender and it must be repaid with interest. A grant is money that does not have to be paid back.
