2004 Graduating Senior Survey Student Comments
College of Nursing

"Why" or "why not" responses to question
"if you had to do it over again, would you choose to attend UWM?"

Student Comments regarding question "do you feel a sense of commitment to and involvement with UWM?"

I believe I received a good education with quality professors

I feel commitment through UWM in general because I've been very impressed with the professors I've had (Chemistry, Math, etc). I feel involvement through the College of Nursing because I have come to know the staff personally and they have been a great s

I feel that the program lacked organization and experience

UWM is close and affordable (as far as rising college costs go).

I've been here for five years now, the School of Nursing tries to keep you pretty involved with activities.

Good location - it's convenient

Haven't had the time or energy to join events

I would have liked a better GPA in high school, that limited my admission into colleges. I learned the hard way. Thank you to UWMilwaukee for my acceptance.

great education....!!!!

with the school of nursing

Location, services offered, online class options, adult learner friendly

high cost

athletics, nurses are a close knit group of students.

I never had any problems with the program at UWM.

I swam for the swim team so it made me really involved with the university as a whole.

It was close to home

I like the campus, but I think the school of nursing is run poorly.

it is a flexible school to go to while working not much to connect with

It seemed like a lot of things were unorganized. As a senior, I still was one of the last people to register in my class. Being in the nursing major, that meant that each semester I got whatever clinical was leftover. This was frustrating.

I feel there should be more promotion of school sport teams and organizational groups.

I like the big city, but with a small campus!

I was never really involved in any groups!

It provided me with a well rounded education in nursing

I live near in Milwaukee area and I pay in state tuition

I have been hear in and out for several years and have gotten to know many professors

I feel that my education I have received here in the School of Nursing has appropriately prepared me for

I take pride in my school. Not only have I given a great deal of my time and spent a significant portion my career to come. Also, this city has so much to offer in terms of opportunity that affirms my decision to come to this university for my education.

of my life here, but I have been involved with activities on campus, as well as employment by the university. I have met some of my greatest friends h

Overall, I really found that UWM was a good university, however, if I had to repeat nursing school I would consider someplace else. The instructors stressed so much that statistics have shown that we do every well on our state boards, but I do not feel the

I got involved with extracurricular activities as I wanted

Being that UWM is too large, it is difficult for the school and professors to become more involved in student's education. I think that UWM makes many changes without consulting or notifying the students.

The education process seems like there are too many classes that I really don't need, but are required to take

I was not satisfied with the housing options on or near campus. I had to commute an hour drive to school every day for four years. The lack of parking made getting to class on time every day almost impossible.

nice atmosphere

people don't stay around campus

I was not happy with the Nursing Program.

smaller school size, teachers can focus on individual needs

Met a lot of friends and the nursing program extends many invitations for activities that allow for meeting others

I would have wanted to finish at the school I started at

I was too busy trying to get my degree and working that I didn't really have time to get involved

The clinical experiences were too weak in the Junior year. Many of the teachers are not very good. Sherry Tarantino is the exception, the best instructor I have had at UWM.

Probably because I'm so much older than most students and we very different points of view; the vast majority are immature, whiney, and anti-intellectual.

I had good experiences in most of my classes, and felt they were a great asset to my education; however, I wish our clinical experiences would have been in areas like OB/PEDS/PSYCH instead of having such a community focus.

I do only because I have put so much time and effort into graduating with a Nursing degree.

It was a good experience I just did not like being punished for graduating in four years by getting the last pick in classes.

I feel involved with the staff not the school.

good education, financially affordable, close to home because I received my education here.
