

Office of Assessment & Institutional
Research (AIR)Assessment & Institutional Research Home

Assessment

Data Resources

2004 Graduating Senior Survey Student Comments
School of Business Administration"Why" or "why not" responses to question
"if you had to do it over again, would you choose to attend UWM?"

I think the probability of finding a job would have been much greater had I attended UW-Madison. With 2 majors and 2 minors, I am facing great difficulty in finding a career opportunity.

The education program that I went through was so unorganized and that made life so hectic. If the school of education program and all those involved could get it together I would consider referring prospective education students to UWM and continuing my e

Cost and distance from parents.

Location and somewhat low cost (this is getting worse however). UWM is not regarded as the best school in business community.

It is a very good school, and is convenient and accessible for people that live around the city.

good school

I would not because the tuition for out of state is too high.

It's convenient because I work full time on campus

UWM is the only public university located in Milwaukee. This is important to me because I have always wanted to live in a big city where there are many different activities available.

It is convenient to where I live and work. YOU can get a business degree without attending day classes. It is cheaper than Marquette.

For the few excellent instructors I had Great location

I really like the professors and the campus

it was fun

Would also like to go out of state, more of a college feel it is a very convenient commuter college and i love the eastside atmosphere.

Cheaper than other schools because I am living at home

I like the area and what the school has to offer.

I enjoyed my time and experiences here, but I have

Student Comments regarding question "do you feel a sense of commitment to and involvement with UWM?"

I felt that the consistent increase in tuition fees, lack of fluent English-speaking professors, and overpriced textbooks created a feeling of resentment towards UWM. I believe this institution selected profit over profound education.

I don't feel that the oppurtunities that are involved with the University aren't well known about and publicized, otherwise I would have been more involved throughout my college experience.

Because, generally, I've been treated like a number. The exception are advisors I've met along the way that have had a real interest in my future

Just sitting in lecture halls watching powerpoint does not build a sense of commitment.

Yes and no. This is because I never lived on campus, so I guess you don't get the same feeling as others who do live on campus.

commuting to school

This is more because I am an employee, not because I am a student

When you spend 5 years of your life at a school it becomes part of you. Also, being involved with various clubs and organizations enhances that commitment.

Seems like most of the activities, clubs etc are geared towards day/younger students. I was a night student and never got involved in any of the clubs, fraternities or organizations - the hours they met were really geared towards day students.

Alpha Kappa Psi

Participated in athletics

not enough time spent on campus

Most people are commuters

I was involved in a fraternity.

Never had enough time to be involved with extra-found out that receiving a degree from UWM doesn't receive much respect.	curricular activities, etc.

	I did not live on campus
I love learning and met a lot of good people	I feel committed to my classes and want to get good grades, but would have liked to have more time for extra curricular activities
It is a good school.	A little bit.
I found that the UWM School of Business has offered an incredible accounting program	The Professors in my major
The academic staff within the the School of Business, particularly the accounting staff, is first-rate.
Small Campus
I learned a lot and met a diverse group of individuals.	Because it is where I spent the last 5 years of my life. It was my home away from home and it has helped me start achieving my dreams.
I liked the professors at UWM, however I encountered many many unnecessary problems with the financial aid office. I thought that their goals were to help the students, and help them in a timely manner, but over the last five years I have seen that that w
I have had wonderful experience with my professors, especially in the business school. The business school also has great connections with the business community helping me find a full time job for after graduation and helping me learn more about the bus	Since I've been here for over four years, it's hard not to feel some committment to a college I spent so much time at. However, I think UWM does appear to show a lack of committment to the students. It seems like UWM sometimes forgets that they are ther
it worked out well	good school
If I had to do it all again, I would choose a Business school with a bit more prestige and better post-grad job placements. Everything I have done since I have graduated (career-wise), has been completely without the assistance of UWM.	I feel a sense of commitment and involvement with Milwaukee, but not the University, except for upholding the little prestige and sophistication that it has.
Probably, business school is not bad at all. Teachers are mostly great execept for few really bad ones, and they are permanent teachers, so there is nothing the student can do. And the excess to the gym and its equipment is extremely disappointing.	I get involve with quite a lot of different activities, but UWM as a whole is very divided, and that is not enjoyable to me.
Although it was a fun experience, UWM has to many requirements to fill prior to being accepted into your major.
I like the atmosphere
close proximity to home, and variety of degree programs	part time student.
It has a decent business school with a rising reputation. The tuition is reasonable and it is also nearby.	It served a purpose and really didn't fill a role for me other than gaining my degree. That has to do with me personally, not the school.
To finish my degree which I began years ago I would have preferred an accelerated program without the wellrounded education requirements.	Sorry, but not at this point. I feel appreciation for the access to inexpensive education and I thank the state of Wisconsin for that. UWM is a good school but so are many of the UW schools in the state. I picked this one because of location.
It has a decent business school with a rising reputation. The tuition is reasonable and it is also nearby.	It served a purpose and really didn't fill a role for me other than gaining my degree. That has to do with me personally, not the school.
Not enough (if any) day sessions for required upper level business courses.	I have grown up here and hope to remain involved with the individuals and groups I have come to know here.
UWM has been one of the finest experiences that I could have ever hoped for in an urban university. I was able to get involved with organizations at school while having the ability to enjoy the city life.	The school has prepared me for the future in ways that I never imagined were possible, and I feel in debt to UWM and its faculty.
Working full tiime I like that UWM offered a variety of classes either during evening hours or on Saturdays. I also like the fact that some of the classes were shared between graduate and undergraduate students. Listening to the graduate students provided

ENJOYED THE ATMOSPHERE

ATTENDED MANY SPORTING EVENTS

Urban area offered numerous internship opportunities.

It's a very diverse school and offers good classes.

i have completed what was set in my goals

I felt I received a quality education

I am a commuting student, with family. Difficult to get involved.

It was a good school. I had some issues with advising. I think i might have liked a school that had less commuters more

I never got involved in most of the campus activities because I was working as many hours as possible to pay for school problems with advising and getting classes that were required. I had to beg to be added to classes as a senior

Good selection of classes and enjoyed working with most of my teachers. Challenging.

Yes, but I've been going to school so long and I'm not in my 20's so it's a bit different. I have a career already with a husband and baby at home, so I'm not as involved with student activities, etc.

Because I have learned a lot here at UWM. Not just education wise, but also on a social level. My time spent here is too valuable to go back and try to undo.

Yes because my experience alone has made me into who I am. I don't think that any other school could have accomplished that for me.

I believe that the type of education received from UWM is just as good as any other school, if not better. I like the School of Business Administration.

I have been going to school at UWM since 1998, so I feel a little committed, although I do not necessarily have the time to be more involved than I already am.

Because of the past 5 years UWM has grown, both in the classroom and out of the classroom.

The MIS program does not go into enough depth. I had many problems in dealing with my military conflicts as well as UWM not accepting the military transcript.

Faculty have not been very personal. Getting through school has been difficult.

I can afford it. It was better than having to take out loans, plus it worked with my work schedule.

I was very pleased with most of the Staff here

it takes commitment to finish

Overall, I was satisfied with the courses. I was not particularly pleased with the way my course work from a previous college transferred in.

I am older and took only night courses.

I had relatively few professors who showed a real passion for teaching the students. I really care about learning things that will aid me in my profession, and I have had to undertake significant supplemental study to learn how to go far in my career.

I oftentimes have felt an us vs. them attitude when it comes to how the UWM staff treats the students. I think that the staff sometimes loses sight of the fact that the student is the paying customer. I also do not feel much of a commitment to the Univers

I think that UWM offers many great resources in the Milwaukee area. Additionally, I have begun my professional career at a large Milwaukee bank which has been a plus. The only factor that would make me think against UWM is the opportunity to relocate out

I think the problem of being a commuter school will always exist. However, I have seen more involvement spring since I began attending classes here in 2000.

The Accounting professors are wonderful

Too busy with other things

I feel that this campus is the optimal size and has an excellent location

For the past 4 years I have lived near the UWM campus and feel that it is a special part this community

Although I did enjoy most of the time I spent at UWM, I think I could have done better academically at a school that wasn't

I don't live on campus, I have two jobs and a family. I don't have time to be involved in anything else.

I like the program that UWM offers

Very segregated, hard to meet people.

I also wish I would have tried another school. I only choose UW-Milwaukee because of my girlfriend. I was already enrolled in courses at UW-Madison.

But, I know that you can really get involved if you want. I used to be involved in various programs. Now, I really feel more like any other student that paid to go to school, just a senior.

It's not too hard and the people are great!

Because, I owe you guys money!

it was alright and somewhat inexpensive

Th advisors didn't really advise in the directions that I don't feel like I experienced college like most

I needed to go, or I may be graduated by now. Also the parking is really bad and I spent a lot of money on parking tickets	people. Mainly because I was a commuter student and didn't hang around campus, aside from classes.
cost, classes offered at night, good instructors
Degree is more respected than the various other storefront universities.
I enjoyed every minute of it.	Especially recently with how the basketball team has been doing, I have been going to more functions.
Convenient and credentialled	Good community/school system
Great Value for the $	Maybe commitment, not a lot of involvement
	i only attend evening classes
I think I recieved a very valuable education. I am happy with the my degree. I played volleyball for the university and I wouldn't have missed that for the world.	I feel a committment to the athletic department and to the School of Business. I was well treated by both of these parties.
I like the atmosphere and the education that I received	Well I worked full time and went to classes full time so i did not have much ti me to participate in school events
No parking. Small seats.	Commuter campus. No sense of school pride.
I like the campuse, how it's all in one area.	Not really because I didn't do much to make me feel like I'm part of UWM.
	I never know what's going on. Not enough communication about events going on at UWM, organizations to join, etc. Especially not enough information about Student Senate hearings/decisions, etc. that affect where my tuition money goes (i.e. I am against t
It's close to where I live.
This past winterirm I took a class and the resources we needed like computer labs, food, and paking were not very accessible
The University as a whole has improved itself dramtically over the past 4 years. I guess my decision to enroll at UWM again, would depend upon my major.	I feel UWM as a institution is great, but lacks what I would call school pride, and a sense of unity.
I feel I recieved a well rounded education here. However this University doesn't prepare students for graduate school because certain graduate school requirements are not undergrad requirements	This did not occur because of my education. My work with the Institute for Service Learning got me involve with the campus and community.
I love it baby!
I like the fact that I could work in the city while I attended school. Also, I like the fact that it is close to home.	I feel a sense of commitment because it is the only college I have attended. I do not feel much involvement because I am not involved in any activities outside of class.
I loved the atmosphere, the diversity and the help I received from staff.	I've been here almost every day (attending school full-time) for the past 4 years. It is like my 2nd home.
I had a great experience with the school of business.	I joined a fraternity and had lots of fun.
i enjoy the access to the downtown life and businesses. I am a little bit concerned about the future of the university. I believe that we need to raise the standards for admission. Too often is UWM looked at as a second or last resort. I think that by	I do feel pride about where I will be graduating from. And yes, in the future, I will be following what is going on and will be willing to help improve the school in anyway that I can. However, there were only a handful of classes where I felt that
The more classes you take, the more all the knowledge come together.	I was in the Student Investment Club
location, close to home, money constraints	I'm here for class and then I'm gone
The School of Business was a good experience but some of the help through the Financial Aid and Enrollment Services office wasn't very friendly.
This has been such a rewarding experience. This was the best choice for me.	Since I've joined organizations, the sense of commitment and involvement were much higher.
It is a nice school and the business program has greatly improved. I was able to work at an internship all four years downtown while going here, so the location was nice as well.	I never lived on campus or was around the school that much. I went to work, came to school, and went home.
Location is great, classes are pretty good... Classes	It is a commuter college and I was there only when are sometimes too elementary and professors do not have enough knowledge of the subject	I needed to be.

I like the city but too many people from around this area go here and its not easy to meet new people	I like watching the men's basketball team and I plan to live in Milwaukee and I think that UWM is a nice resource to have in the community
For the program	I have participated in events at uwm and also i am a part of the tutoring program.
Learned and good experiece
I think that the programs in the business school help prepare you for a career in your chosen field.	You should take pride in the school you attended.
One of my biggest regrets was not going away to school. I commuted here all 4 years. But in the end I felt that staying home was the best thing for me to do and I am glad that UWM was within my commuting ditance.	I feel very committed to UWM. The teachers are wonderful and some of the classes were actually fun and I enjoyed going to them. UWM has become a big part of my life these last 4 years and I am proud to say that I am a graduate of UWM.
Affordable	Older, working student. Really didn't become involved except for taking class.
I am very happy with the availability of night classes to complete my degree. I do, however, thing that a lot of the courses were not challenging enough.	I learned a lot during my time at UWM and I met a lot of very nice professors and students.
Coming from a small town it was an educational experience for me.	I live off campus, approx 17 miles away, UWM offers very few services for those who commute.
I really enjoyed going to UWM. The campus is nice and everything is very close together. Enjoyed pretty much everthing about it.	Worked for the Athletic Department all 4 years and loved it.
Close to home, reasonable tuition	Commuted
I had a great experience and i like the campus and the city of milwaukee	Not much school spirit here, once i get my degree thats it- nothing more to be committed to.
Close to home, nice campus	I don't live on campus, or work near campus so I was only there for class, that's it
I might have chosen a private college that is more specialized in advertising.
I am able to save money and live at home while attending school. I also have been able to schedule my classes in a way which I am able to work.	I commute to school and the way my schedule is I only come 2 times a week.
I came here to play basketball, and I knew that coming in to the school.	It was my college!! I plan to donate future earnings back to the school - B-school and honors program.
Overall, I felt I got a great education for the price of attending a state university. The professors really care about the students. Also, there are great internship opportunities by being located in a huge urban area.	I tried to get involved as much as possible. As this is a big commuter school, I think it is hard for some people to be involved.
Close to family and friends	Never part of the community
good time, great professors	My life has revolved around this university for the past 4 years from work to classes to activites
I really like the atmosphere and the teachers.	I wish I would have had more of a chance to get involved in extra activities.
I would probably come here again, however, I really feel like I missed out on the whole college atmosphere. For example, Madison or Purdue are two schools that are centered around college. With football teams, fraternities, sororities, and other school a	Basically what I stated in the first question. UWM seems to be centered around the city. If we possibly had a football team that was decent or there was more advertising for the school activities, it would get more people interested. However, because s
It's close to home and I love the campus and have been very happy with my professors and courses.	Because it's been apart of my life for four years.
Don't like the city	Didn't enjoy my time here very much
Wonderful Teachers!!!	Being here really gives me the feeling that I want to succeed.
I would go to Madison but my High School grades weren't good enough. UWM was a pretty good experience.	It doesn't have the feel of a big university, probably because the students are mostly commuters. I don't feel a sense of school pride/conection.
cheap and close to home	I transfered and don't have a feeling of attachment
I enjoyed going to UWM but some teacher make	It was part of my life for 4 years and now I am learning hard and their reviews from their students should be taken more serious.

ready to move on.

I like the area and had a great time at UWM.

Because I experience a lot of new things here. UWM has helped me grow in many ways.

It was a good school with people from many differet backgrounds.

I enjoyed my experience at UWM and would recommend this school to others.

Because of all the time and effort that I put in here I feel as if a part of me will always be here

Learned a lot from the professors since they were willing to give you personalized attention.

I have been here 4 years and participated in many events so i fell a sense of commitment to the school.

I began at Marquette. Honestly, for the money, UWM gave me what I needed and it was of excellent quality. The education level I received and the faculty that I worked with were exceptional. In my chosen field, I can't say that I ran into a multitude of ho

This is a little of both. Since this is such a commuter school, and I am one of those commuters, it is difficult at times to feel a real sense of belonging to the school. It has helped foster some great friendships that will last a long time after the tex

The reason that I would not attend UWM again is because is that you could do grades are determined by the scores of others. Having a curve helps many students, however, the majority of students that attend UWM, I feel, are here to get there diploma and no

I do feel a sense of involvement to UWM do to the fact of expanding my mind and receiving an education. That I actually put forth the effort to get and maintain good grades and that by attending UWM it will further my chances of getting a career in the Good university, close to home. No reason to go anywhere else

Its where I graduated from so therefore I feel a small bond yes

I love Milwaukee, because it's close enough to home but far away enough to feel like I have freedom. I had a great experience at UWM and have met many great people.

Because I have been here for years and I am a member of CEO and SHRM. Because I spent 25,000 dollars to get an education...I feel I need to get something out of it.

I would invest more money in my education in hopes to gain more knowledge and opportunity. I would probably go to a private school if i could afford it.

I spent so many years here, how could I not feel a commitment to it?

Good Professors and great campus

UWM is a fine institution and I'm honered to be a part of it

Close to home, large school, working for STS was a great experience.

Maybe, I don't know, not exactly important to me.

I would have probably applied to a more prestigious institution. I was indifferent about my future at the time of my application here. My ACT scores and GPA would have gotten me into a more preferable school such as Notre Dame.

This is a large campus where students are rarely organized for social events. I don't feel loyal to this school, nor am I especially proud of my tenure here. I will regard my grad school as my alma mater.

Excellent opportunities within the community.

I am involved in student organizations, which gives you more of a commitment to the school, ather than only going to classes.

I really think that I have been made opportunities to grow here. I also worked on campus for three years.

Both work and school here. I spend all my time here. I am involved with a lot of events that take place at UWM.

I did like their Business program, even though I still would make a lot of changes. I liked the location of UWM and people at UWM. I wasn't to fond of the parking problems and some of the courses they didn't offer however.

Just like my alma matter of Oak Creek I will be a proud UWM alum

Because, it is close to home.

I'm very involved in my sorority.

I would have thought about going to UW-Madison or UCLA.

I feel that i am obligated to do good in order to reflect on the school that i am attending

Like the city, campus is very compact

Held several campus jobs, very involved in organizations

It was hard for me to have time to get attached or involved. I was always focused on the end.

I love Milwaukee, and UWM is a great school.

I have been here for four years and know it like the back of my hand.

It is cheaper to go here and live at home. I feel like a number.

I do not know.

it's close to home. Location, it was close to my house and easy to commute.	i commute. I commute, so therefore am not on campus a lot
If I decided to stay in state I would choose UWM again, but I wish I would have attended an out of state school. Having attended UW-Madison for two years and then transferring, I learned that UWM is much more committed to their students. Both Professors and TA's are much more accessible. However, I feel advising needs to be improved. Advisors are unhelpful and un	Clubs and events are hard to find.
I grew up in this area and was familiar with school. It was the best place for me to be. UWM has a good program for my major which was Business Administration, and a lot of companies in the Milwaukee area respect the school.	The school worked well for me and I would help in any way I can. Yes, its a respectable school that offers a lot of commitment to its students
Maybe, if it was in my price range. Most of the classes I had were wonderful. But I didn't feel that there enough elective classes offered in the Marketing Major. Also, I didn't think the scheduling of classes was done well. Having a full time job, the only classes that fit my schedule w	Just because this was my second school, and I didn't really involve myself.
Nearly every class I attended helped me as a person and I believe that my professors and the staff in general was genuinely concerned with the well being of the students	Since transferring to UWM I have had to work full-time and I was never able to fully enjoy
There were some good teachers who helped me out and were willing to work with you to make sure you learned the material. I appreciate them all. I feel that the education I have received has prepared me for my chosen career path and assisted me in developing the necessary skills to succeed. I was also limited in the choices of universities available. I chose UWM because of the business school, d	I dont live around there. As a nontraditional student, I feel it was more difficult to develop a sense of commitment due to the family and work commitments. Some professors I have had do not take into account that nontraditional students require a differently structured course, e
As a honors student I felt I was really only being challenged in my honors classes, and not in the business program where my BA was.
I like the city and it has a good business school.	still a commuter school
Lots of Job opps in major metropolitian Cities	Not much school spirit here, maybe when Im rich Ill feel that way and give you all some $.
It's a great school with great accounting profs.	I love it here, and I'm proud to be a graduate of UWM.
I felt that a lot of the time it was a waste of time. Many of the professors did not know how to teach. I felt they just presented material to us and expected we knew what was going on. I feel this is not teaching. There were some that did teach and I	I feel it is a school of come do your thing and then leave.
I have enjoyed the School of Business, the professors that I have had and the friends that I have made while attending UWM	I do as a student. However, due to a full time work schedule I have not been able to get involved with any clubs or associations.
Great business program.	Had a great experience with the University. I feel as though UWM and UWM idea has improved in my time at the University.
I often felt as though I was a number rather than a person. The UWM system ran me around in too many circles where as other colleges that I have looked into have been more helpful and corteous.
It's a great education at a reasonable price.	I've been a student here for the past three years. It's hard not to.
It is an easy place to commute to if you end up not living on campus. I should have attended a technical school instead because of the amount of work needed in the	I was never in the dorms, and no school activities interested me when trying to meet different people.

computer industry

Proximity, quality of classes and most professors... some professors were exceptional!

Because I liked most of my teachers, and I learned things I was suppose to.

The school has great programs and facilities, the only drawback is the lack of a good school with great professors

SBA is a fairly good school

As a non-traditional night student I have not had the time or inclination to make us of most of the campus activities or resources that I paid for.

Good Business program, convenient for myself and I've always lived in this area.

I am involved with SHRM.

I was awarded a financial aid package quickly. This allowed me to plan for whether I could afford to go to college at all, how much rent I could afford, and other essential planning. Without any unexpected surprises, my college experience was not delayed.

I have been here for three years. The faculty and the other students are incredibly easy-going and friendly.

It's a decent school

Good reputation & many opportunities due to the location & reputation

because I learned so much & had such good experiences

For the money it was a good education and a fun experiance

I like the school but do not any powerful feelings towards it.

Good Business Program

I do because I am a student but thats all I take from it.

I attended Marquette University for 2 years before attending UWM. I found my experience at UWM to be very comparable to my experience at Marquette, but less expensive.

It gave me the tools to succeed.

It was a decent experience.

Being a night student and a commuter there was very little for me to be involved in or feel dedicated to.

Good experiance in some areas but in others teaching was a little weak.

Enjoy the area.

The cost was reasonable, the instructors were the most knowledgable, supportive and always made themselves available. The all around experiance was very positive!

The longer I participated in my course work, the more students and faculty I got to know. This helped me feel bonded to my program and university.

The Professors and Advisors have been most helpful and supportive. Financially, it has been a great value for my education too. I recommend UWM highly to everyone.

I take my studies and learning very seriously. I am a non-traditional student who has been made to feel very welcome and accepted at UWM.

professors are excellent. i was able to learn in an environment that made me feel comfortable and also allowed me to learn my way.

i never really got into anything except my classes. i also work between 40 and 50 hours per week, which made it hard to be involved in campus activities available programs; location

i work for dining services and it gets me involved in school activities

I have worked as an intern for 3 different companies and found that the MIS program is not developed enough to prepare us for what we really need to know

I am married and came to school only to earn my degree the extra activities weren't really a part of my school experiance

For the few excellent instructors I had: Herman Ndofor, Paul Fischer John Armstrong

Alpha Kappa Psi

felxibility and variety of class hour

A great deal of knowledge and personal satisfaction

I wish that I would have stayed at my previous university, although I have no problems with UWM. It is a great school.

I have not been here long enough.

Yes it has been a greaty experiance.

Yes especiallt in the accounting department.

It is a good University.

A lot of helpful people

The Accounting professors are wonderful - especially Ceil Pillsbury

Too busy with other things

UWM is a good school, but there is not a lot of job opportunities in the area.

I felt supported and understood by UWM staff

Urban campus allows for many opportunities

I don't regret the steps it took that got me to graduating this semester. I'm glad I stayed at UWM because I was able to work and attend school without any conflicts.	I always worked and juggled school so I didn't have any time to get involve with organizations or any other UWM activities.
I would chose to go to school out of the state, I grew up around here and wish that I had chosen a new place to go to school.	I never got involved with anything campus related and I have only attended UWM for 2 years.
I had a great experience attending this college	I really didn't try hard enough to be too involved
Location	Everyone is more involved with their outside lives than their school lives
Yes, I was able to obtain a full time position from an internship that I located on the UWM web site.
Easy Commute. Good Instructors	Very helpful in achieving my goal
UWM has offered a wonderful blend of diversity and outstanding teaching staff.	Throughout the duration of my academic carrer at UWM, I have been both a student and employee of the University. As a student worker I say the every day dedication to the students and the community.
Throughout the duration of my academic carrer at UWM, I have been both a student and employee of the University. As a student worker I say the every day dedication to the students and the community.	I feel that my involvement with UWM has and still continues to enlighten me.
Cost and distance from parents.	Because, generally, I've been treated like a number. The exception are advisors I've met along the way that have had a real interest in my future: Twyla Mcghee, Ines Patterson and Dawn Koerten.
I feel the accounting program is an excellent program I found the quality of education to be good. And the instructors of my major were always excited to teach accounting	I commuted 40 minutes one way so it limited my involvement in activities
Close to home, in a large city. Which gives students lots to do, as opposed to schools like Whitewater.	I do, but to a small extent. I went to Whitewater for 2 years, which is a reason. Also, a lot of people commute. They take classes, and then rush home as fast as possible, which takes away from a lot of them getting involved.
I would probably go to San Diego State because my pops went there and tuition here is such a joke; it's only $300 less than Florida State.	I like the business building, but a lot of things are really bad. Like the residents of Shorewood won't let us build a parkings structure. San Diego State has a huge parking structure, but we don't! They could use the money to reduce tuition, which is too
I transferred and had a lot more, what I feel to be, unnecessary curriculum to complete (i.e. the cultural diversity requirement ??). Also, within the business school, there are not enough class time offerings and I was forced to take night classes, which	I've only been here a short time.
I like UWM, although I transferred here from UW-Madison and would give anything to go back there again.	I like the small class sizes and a good amount of people in student organizations.
Excellent business school	I am involved in an organization.
I love the business school at UWM; it provides great professors and excellent learning opportunities. I am not very fond of the City of Milwaukee itself, though. Quite expensive to live here.	I do, but not as much as if I attended a different UW school I think. There is not a lot of the atmosphere here is great, i loved the school of business and everything they offered. the professors were incredible and they gave me the best education i could of ever received.	this is MY university, it always will be, i spent 3 of the best years of my life here, i am proud to be a graduate from this university. I carry with me the UWM tradition of being proud of my school and promoting that out in the working industry.
The school has a great business program, the dorms are a lot of fun, and the campus is in the city and near the lake.	I am involved in campus organizations. I lived in the dorms for 2 years and I live close to campus now.
Good professors	It is were I accomplished one of my mothers dream
I like the city and the atmosphere
Location, general cost	Not one person, with the exception of a few instructors generally cared about students (Just go down to the financial aid dept. and deal with them or the VA Rep).

Because I began at Whitewater and found that after transferring to Milwaukee I got more out of my education

OAIR - UWM - Phone: 414-229-2721 - Contact: air-web@uwm.edu
last updated: April 8, 2005