Definitely	Quality of classes and ease of scheduling

Definitely	The educational experience overall was very rewarding, the teachers overall were very qualified, and I feel that I learned a great deal of information.
Definitely	The experience and job opportunities were great in Milwaukee
Definitely	The faculty and staff at UWM truly care about every student's success in his or her academic career. The smaller class sizes make professors and teachers more approachable and facilitate better learning.
Definitely	The flexibility allowed at UWM could not be matched anywhere else. The ability to get an internship and go to school provided me with the best opportunity coming out of college.

Definitely	The people are great, the one downfall to this university is that I could not understand a third of my professors due to terrible english.

Definitely	the teachers are very understanding and it was affordable and close.
Definitely	The University was close enough to home for me and overall, I had a great educational experience.
Definitely	Thought it was a good school, and helped me through my degree
Definitely	UW-Madison was my first choice, and I attended UW-Madison for three years but I didn't like the long walks in between classes and I felt that the teachers and teaching assistants didn't care about my success. I believe my success at UW-Milwaukee was due to the help and support of the faculty.
Definitely	UW-Milwaukee is a more diverse campus with more business career opportunities.
Definitely	UWM gave me an education, a job, and extracurricular activities to be involved in. I am very grateful.
Definitely	UWM has a great community and an interesting college life
Definitely	UWM has a large amount of resources at the students fingertips. I never felt overwhelmed by the class sizes and the professors and TA's are amazing.
Definitely	UWM has given me more opportunities than I could have ever imagined. There is no way I would be where I am today without UW-Milwaukee.
Definitely	UWM is a great school. I have met plenty of life long friends here and feel I have gotten a great education. I wouldn't change a thing and if I had to do it again I would
Definitely	UWM is a great school. The location is perfect and the school of Business has some of the best professors in the state.
Definitely	Yes, because the classes UWM offered was great.
Definitely No	I believe the school wastes money and charges higher tuition to do so. UWM seems to replace or add computers every single year when most students have laptops. Also, parking has never been a priority for the school and only got worse as time went on. UWM hires instructors who speak very poor English, making it hard for the students to follow what they teach.
Probably	because i love this city and enjoy living in Milwaukee and have had a very pleasant experience at UWM
Probably	Because it was a good experience throughout the semesters.
Probably	because it was a great experience and the all of the staff members were really freindly
Probably	Came here on a basketball scholarship to play for a successful program
Probably	can't beat the tuition price...it's highly cost effective to come here
Probably	Classes I needed were not always offered during semesters. Requirements were not clearly stated by advisors so may classes that I took were unnecessary. However the academic portion of the school was well.
Probably	Close to home
Probably	Close to home and Job
Probably	Close to home. Good experience. Just too cold. Not UWM's fault.

Probably	Enjoyed my time at UWM very much. But I could've played basketball at some division 3 schools
Probably	Good academics close to me.
Probably	Good atmosphere on campus, interesting courses, fun city. Complaints were: many teachers were hard to understand/communicate with (foreign), high crime rates surrounding campus
Probably	Good business school
Probably	Good campus, too close to home.
Probably	Good experience and close to home.
Probably	Good internship opportunities
Probably	Good price and access to networks
Probably	Good school and its close to home.
Probably	Good school, but way too many stupid people because of the low standards for admittance. At the same time it made school relatively easy.
Probably	Great accounting program
Probably	Great accounting program. Good internship opportunities.
Probably	Great business school
Probably	Great environment. Great city.
Probably	Great location and good business program.
Probably	Great school with so much to offer, and although I have experienced many great professors there have been several of the professors/TA's especially in lower level classes that were very difficult to understand which made learning/applying the concepts from classes difficult and not enjoyable.
Probably	Great school wasn't well advertised to local high schools.
Probably	Great school.
Probably	had many good experiences
Probably	Had too many teachers that I couldn't understand and would not help in my education as much as they should have.
Probably	I attended UW-Platteville before this and liked it a lot more. UWM is the better school, but I'd probably try somewhere else.
Probably	I chose UWM because it was close to home so I could save money and continue to work to pay for my education. I have few regrets and would probably choose UWM again.
Probably	I could never find class times that worked with my work schedule so I could never usually take a full 15 credits, but the classes were good and the professors were helpful.
Probably	I enjoyed all the professor I had.
Probably	I enjoyed everything UWM had to offer but would have liked to live somewhere other than Milwaukee
Probably	I enjoyed my stay
Probably	I enjoyed my time here as a student and I felt that I have learned a great deal of knowledge while attending UWM.
Probably	I enjoyed the atmosphere of UWM, but there were some academic challenges that may have swayed my decision.

Probably	I feel like it was a good university to attend, but some of the professors do not speak the best of English and it is hard for communication to happen between students and the professor.
Probably	I feel very comfortable here at UWM.
Probably	I found the classes fairly comprehensive.
Probably	I grew to really like the campus and appreciate the fact that all the buildings are so close together making getting to classes easy. The only problem I really had was being able to get into certain classes at the times I needed, especially when I was commuting.
Probably	I had a good time here at UWM and made some good friends.
Probably	I have had good professors in the accounting program, which I appreciate greatly. I have only heard good things about UWM from people in the profession also.
Probably	I know a lot of successful people that graduated from UWM. I enjoyed my experience with majority of classes and professors.
Probably	I like being in Milwaukee but there are aspects of this program that are awful and aspects of other programs i love...
Probably	I like the degree itself, but am having a hard time finding jobs/internships with it. Even had a hard time getting an internship here at UWM.
Probably	I like the professors and the personal attention they give to the students
Probably	I liked living off campus, yet having the feel of being downtown.
Probably	I liked the city.
Probably	I liked the environment
Probably	I liked the programs offered here and the fact that it was close enough to home to stop there but far enough away that its not a daily thing. I might want to get farther away if I did it all over again.
Probably	I liked the way the dorms were set up compared to other schools.
Probably	I love the Business school. The professors are well qualified and dedicated. I just like the whole atmosphere.
Probably	I loved UWM but wish I could have been closer to my family
Probably	I originally started at UWM in Architecture and when I chose to change to Accounting also chose to continue at UWM because I loved it.
Probably	I really enjoyed my time here.
Probably	I really enjoyed the college atmosphere. The East Side feels like your own little college town. Some professors should be evaluated again about the way they teach; I believe some were not feasible teachers in the least bit.
Probably	I really enjoyed UWM, but after attending Madison for some badger games, I think I would have tried harder to get into UW-Madison.
Probably	I really liked living in Milwaukee and the people that I've come in contact with at the school have all been pretty great. I also had some great relationships with a few of my professors and TA's which makes school more fun to go to and more exciting to learn.
Probably	I really wanted to go to college in a warm climate.
Probably	I think the university should provide more awareness of the programs they offer to the students.
Probably	I was very satisfied, but there could be a university that fits me better if I looked for it.

Probably	I would also have liked to experience going to school out of state. Another one of the schools on my list was University of Minnesota.
Probably	I would have liked to have received more experience in marketing. I guess I didn't realize it was a BBA degree in marketing. I would have just liked to have received a BS in marketing.
Probably	If done over with a better academic record I probably would have went to UW Madison, but my experience at UWM was very enjoyable
Probably	Instructors were mediocre with teaching abilities
Probably	Investment Cert. Program
Probably	It had a good atmosphere. It was close to home, and I got a great internship because of the school.
Probably	It has been fun being in the city. Milwaukee has a lot to offer including jobs, quality education and a nightlife.
Probably	It is a convenient location to many local attractions, it has division 1 athletics, the campus is not too close or far from home, however I did not really enjoy the living accommodations in the residence halls, and I felt that many of my classes that I was required to take were not relevant to my major
Probably	It is a good university with access to many helpful resources, and is close to home.
Probably	It is an excellent school for its cost and location
Probably	It was a close to home campus and the teachers in the business school were very knowledgeable.
Probably	It was a good education.
Probably	It was a great school and a lot of different opportunities were available to me.
Probably	It was a great time
Probably	It was cost efficient.
Probably	It was overall an enjoyable time. I like the location of the campus. It is convenient to have everything so close by. However the dense campus does at times get annoying. Traffic and noise is a big issue around the campus.
Probably	It was very convenient to be so close to home and have an internship so close by.
Probably	It was very non-traditional student friendly.
Probably	It would depend on my financial situation.
Probably	It's close to home and the accounting program is very good.
Probably	Its close to my friends, I received my first degree at Oshkosh and wanted to try something different
Probably	Milwaukee is a good city, lots of opportunities
Probably	Most likely yes, but I would also prefer to be closer to my family because I now will end up living in Milwaukee permanently due to a job opportunity.
Probably	Most of the teachers were very good at teaching their courses. The business advisers were always available to help.
Probably	My experience at UWM was a positive one.
Probably	Nice atmosphere, like the fact its around a big city
Probably	Not too costly. Good school of biz.
Probably	Overall it was a good school.
Probably	School is school. I had a good time and felt I have received an adequate education.

Probably	The atmosphere here is wonderful and the campus is big enough to explore, but small enough to not be overwhelming. It is a little overcrowded and parking is terrible, but it is a commuter school, so I couldn't expect much less.
Probably	The atmosphere is nice and very diverse. I like it a lot.
Probably	The business school is much more competitive than I thought it would be.
Probably	The Business school was a good experience for me. I have learned a lot and enjoyed the community in which we live.
Probably	The culture that surrounds the campus is a significant advantage over other schools.
Probably	The finance department is not very strong, and I had several instances with incredibly poor professors. As well as, the further you get through the program the amount of resources tend to drop off.
Probably	The large classrooms weren't ideal, but the smaller classes were worthwhile.
Probably	The proximity to my hometown was nice and I really enjoy the small campus and what the city has to offer.
Probably	There was not much school spirit at UWM. I missed this tremendously especially a good football team where students come together to support the school and tailgate. I feel all we have to do for fun is drink. . . not too crazy about that
Probably	UWM is a good and diverse atmosphere.
Probably	UWM is diverse and in the perfect location. It has so many students but the classes are still a manageable size. With the size of the university comes a great deal of opportunities.
Probably	UWM let me really excel and gave me time to get involved in other organizations. I previously went to UW Madison and felt I didn't have the "time" to join clubs, and the one I did join had over 700 members joining it along with me. The smaller culture of UWM gave me more time to focus on what I really wanted.
Probably	Uwm was a good experience for me. It's a good learning environment as well. The climate is a little annoying at times, but that is it.
Probably	UWM was a good school
Probably	UWM was a great place to go! Most professors were really good and the advisors in the school of business were very helpful in guiding me towards graduation.
Probably	UWM's IS programs are continually growing and becoming one of the best degrees in the midwest. Especially in SAP
Probably	Way to many foreign teaching assistants that could barely speak English.
Probably	Well I really liked the university as a whole and the Lubar School of Business is very respected in the business community.
Probably	Wish there was more diversity of classes to choose from in the MIS area.
Probably	Yes I would because the campus was close enough to home and in a very diverse city.
Probably No	Because I would prefer to be in a Film School either in Chicago, Los Angeles, or New York.
Probably No	Class sizes are too large and not enough personal connections with professors
Probably No	Has to do with a significant other I would like to be closer to.
Probably No	I did not like how there was no campus feel or campus life. I lived in the dorms freshman year and everyone went home on the weekends which I did not like. I did however think that the work load and classes were more my fit than another university might have been.
Probably No	I feel that other schools have professors who explain the courses better.

Probably No	I had not considered the size of the school and how that would affect my learning. Nor had I seriously considered which school had the best program for the major I was interested in.
Probably No	I just did not like UWM. Parking was horrible. I should not have to pay $1.00 an hour to park at school. I pay enough. I do not use most of the items I pay for. For example the gym membership and the resource centers. I feel UWM is strictly a business. I also feel that discussion sections should not exist, they are a waste of my time and are ridiculous.
Probably No	I liked the program UWM had to offer for accounting. I just was not happy in the city.
Probably No	I really wish I would have gone somewhere farther instead of living at home.
Probably No	I wanted to finish where I started, at UW-LaCrosse, but due to certain circumstances that was not possible.
Probably No	I would go out of the area to get away and see new things by choosing an out of state college
Probably No	I would like to experience going out of state for college.
Probably No	I would probably choose a school that has a more conservative point of view.
Probably No	I would want to complete my degree closer to home.
Probably No	Milwaukee is to cold of a city, the sun never shines.
Probably No	Not challenging enough.
Probably No	School was fine but did not like the community
Probably No	Since I'm from Milwaukee I think I would go somewhere out of state, just to get to explore another city, although Milwaukee is great.
Probably No	The city of Milwaukee is not the best place to live.
Probably No	The companies that recruit on campus are not comparable to schools such as UW-Madison
Probably No	The cost of living in the surrounding area is too expensive
Probably No	There are a lot more prestigious schools out there.
Probably No	There is limited school spirit at UWM, and I wish I attended a school that wasn't as lacking.
Probably No	Too big, too many students
Probably No	Too far from home, too large of a city
Probably No	Took me five years and it was because I could not take the classes I needed to when I wanted to. Advisers do not advise.
Probably No	Transfer program from MATC was not cost and time efficient. Also to many professors are from foreign countries.
Probably No	UWM does not support it's Greek Orgs. Other colleges, such as UW Madison, DO support orgs which I feel would add greatly to the college experience. I do like the urban campus UWM has to offer, but it does not give the feel that most other UW schools do. It seems that the priorities of the higher up here at UWM are misplaced, and based off of private agendas. Also, I believe that UWM should allow students to RENT text books-when the price of tuition is CONSTANTLY raising, students should have the option to save money by renting books--another misplaced priority of the higher ups based off of private agendas. UWM and it's professors make more money because of text book sales, and making more money should not be the sole priority of UWM. Also, SCOM classes are mainly offered at night to accommodate for those students who work full time, and there are not many electives to choose from in this major., I believe that UWM should offer more classes during the day, and offer more electives for the SCOM major.
