Definitely

Affordable and in Milwaukee

Awesome location, knowledgeable professors, great accounting program and career opportunities.

Because I am a business major and Milwaukee is one of the only schools in WI located in a city where I can get real experience and still go to school

Because the University has a great business school and I learned a lot in the courses that I took at UWM. best business school in Wisconsin

Business school really gives you a great idea of what to expect in the real world. Located in the heart of Milwaukee and good cooperation with local businesses.

Campus size, well-known business school and employment opportunities from being in Milwaukee

Close to family

close to home, big city, small campus (geographically), excellent accounting program/business school

close to home, good business school

Close to home, great business school, need to include more English speaking TA's especially in science and economics courses

Close to home, Ran my contracting business while attending school.

Close to home.

comfortable environment, friendly classmates, nice professors.

Confidence given through the coursework you completed.

Everything was set up well for me in a step by step process, and I will be coming out of school with a job.

Fun environment, many opportunities with a very willing and able staff.

good business program, good teachers, good college atmosphere

good business school

Good experiences.

good school

Great advisers, great classes, great professors!

Great and developing supply chain program.

great atmosphere. great campus. great students.

Great business program that is only expanding and growing. Awesome teachers that I learned a lot more than expected.

Great Business School. Good Teachers.

Great Business School...much better than I expected and I believe I've received a solid educational foundation that will allow me to compete in the marketplace.

great diversity. wonderful business school.

Great education at an affordable price great experience, close to home

Great facilities, great teachers, and overall very satisfying and educational experience.

Great learning environment. Arms length education that allows students to fail and succeed based on their own decisions.

Great mix of school life while still being close to the city

Great program. Great professors. Great access to employers.

Great students and teachers

Had an amazing experience here.

has given me great opportunities

I always knew I wanted to attend UWM and I wouldn't change my mind if I could go back.

I choose the road less traveled and that's what made all the difference.

I choose UWM for its Metro campus and access to Milwaukee Companies.

I enjoyed attending class at a university that was not huge but was still in an urban setting. The professors care about the students.

I enjoyed my four years here had a great time and also love the city of Milwaukee and living here.

School/College Sheldon B. Lubar School of Business

Choose UWM again? Why or why not?

Definitely

I enjoyed my time both on and off of campus. I think the diversity and size of the campus population give an eye opening experience to the students.

I enjoyed the campus and opportunities.

I feel that the Business Scholars program was very beneficial to my success thus far.

I felt like it gave me the resources I need to succeed

I felt that i was challenged thoroughly by one of the best accounting schools in the state, and i met a lot of my good friends here.

I had a great experience and love the campus!

I had a great experience here at UWM. I first attended UW-Oshkosh and transferred to UWM where I plan to finish in Spring of 2013.

i have a fun time when studying here.

I have found UWM to be an excellent experience.

I have had a really life changing and memorable experience with UWM.

I have learned so much about myself by attending UWM. The professors, students and other faculty members have taught me how to be a leader and problem solve

I have thoroughly enjoyed my experience here at UWM.

I like being on big campus

I like here.

I like the campus

I like the location of the school and the city of Milwaukee.

I like the school, and it is convenient with where I live.

I Like the way the programs go together.

I love Milwaukee

I love the atmosphere here!

I love the city life and the fact that there is a wide variety of different groups of people and cultures.

I love the school, the campus, the people, and the city.

I love the student culture and the campus in a big city. I grew up in a small town and it was nice to live somewhere else and experience change.

I love this place

I loved my classes, professors, and the location.

I loved my time here, and enjoyed meeting so many new people.

I really liked the atmosphere and the professors were very helpful. I was able to get the classes I wanted and needed.

I thought UWM was a great academic experience. All of my teachers were very helpful in my success at UWM and I was able to work with great classmates.

I was, and am, attracted to the accreditation of UWM

I will definitely choose UWM for my education, because the Lubar Business school at UWM has provided the best academic environment for their students. Moreover, the Lubar Business school at UWM has offered the greatest opportunity to it's student to improve their network with all the well known firms in the USA.

I would choose UWM because it is a quality education and I gained many friendships through my time at the University.

I would choose UWM if I had to do it over again because it has a great academic program and it allows me to get a good education while staying close to family.

I would definitely choose UWM as the University to receive my Bachelor's degree from because of the style of classes, and its adaptability to a busy schedule really made my undergraduate experience that much better.

It has given me the best opportunity to succeed.

It is a comfortable learning environment that helped me to succeed more than any other school I could've picked to attend.

It is a good school and allowed me to work full time while working toward my degreee.

Choose UWM again? Why or why not?

Definitely

It is a great school, great program, with great teachers. i made plenty of friends and i will respect this place for the rest of my life.

It is close to home and the professors have all been great.

It is the local public school

It was a good school and I learned a lot in each of my classes I had here.

It was a good school.

its close to home

It's one of the best Business School's in the state and in my opinion the best Accounting School.

I've gained invaluable experience and networking within my field during my education at UW-Milwaukee.

Location

Location and relationship with accounting firms.

Location and reputation.

Location, close to my home city.

Love that there is always something to do in Milwaukee

Love the area and campus

love the campus

Loved it here

loved the school!

many opportunities downtown

met some great people

My parents and siblings all attended UWM and I wanted to follow in their footsteps.

My years at UWM have certainly molded me into a much more well rounded, mature man than I once was.

Now that I am aware of what UWM has to offer compared to other business schools, I know that I had many more opportunities available to me that have helped me successfully complete my degree.

Previously attended UW-Whitewater, but once I got here, things really came together for me both academically and in my life.

Resources available at UWM, connections to Milwaukee businesses, professors and friends

The accounting program is really good. They really set me up for a successful career in accounting! I will be going for my masters starting in the summer because of this program.

The business school has been an awesome experience. The teachers, students, and curriculum was all awesome.

The business school is wonderful and has an amazing Investment Management Certificate Program

The business school was amazing. Great resources and friendly staff. Also, the rec center in the union was fantastic.

The Business school was much better than I expected

The business was amazing. I really enjoyed all the aspects of the school.

The City, The program, The School

the cost is low

The environment and the culture.

The environment was great. The people I met expanded my horizons. The professor's challenged me and pushed me beyond my comfort zone. My overall experience at this University has been a huge blessing.

The facilities are great, and the programs and education are fantastic

The faculty within the Art Education department was extremely knowledgeable and helpful in guiding me towards my degree

The location was the number one reason and the abundance of resources available.

The Lubar School of Business allowed me to excel, gave me a variety of opportunities, and assisted me through my undergraduate career.

The lubar school of business is great.

School/College Sheldon B. Lubar School of Business

Choose UWM again? Why or why not?

Definitely

The professors are very knowledgeable and there is a wide selection of coursework available.

The Supply Chain program is outstanding

This was the best choice for me I was able to get involved on campus and become a campus leader. I loved all four years at UWM.

UWM has a great business program, especially in accounting, all accompanied by great teachers and staff.

UWM has been pivotal in my development as not only a knowledgeable leader but an all around educated individual. My experience has been nothing but positive and I will continue to spread my story, along with the story of the University in efforts to get others to experience the same.

UWM is very close to home and it has a great business program UWM provides a large campus with a small school feel. In a school of thousands I was still able to attend classes with as few as 15 people.

UWM was a great school

UW-Milwaukee is a great school and close to home.

Yes

Yes I have had a great experience here, and I feel I am prepared for a career in business.

yes I would

Yes, I like the location...Milwaukee and the school is perfect size for me.

Yes, I would choose to attend UWM again. I learned a great deal of useful information from most of my classes. The instructors here are great! The career services department helped me with my career path for the future. I was also impressed with the resources on campus.

Yes, UW-Milwaukee is very inviting Campus, I learned a lot.

Yes. The Business Scholars program along with the IMCP was very rewarding. Both gave me amazing opportunities and valuable experiences.

Probably

Accounting program is great for leading you to your career after graduation.

athletics

because of in state tuition.

Because UWM provides considerable academic level and comfortable education difficulty for me. And I am very happy to have a great experience when I stayed here for 4 years with my friends and teachers. Classes were very large and impersonal but it worked out so I am glad about that

close to home

Close to home, friendly student body

Close to home, good college atmosphere

Close to home.

close to my house

convenience

Due to the large size of the lectures

Enjoyable campus environment and classes

Enjoyed my time spent here, and feel confident on my education

Generally it help me a lot good accounting program

Good Program, Helpful faculty good school and very good program

Good school. I like the distance from home. However, I feel like I would have liked to go somewhere out of state.

Great accounting program, helpful faculty/staff, and helpful programs

Great place to learn, wish it was more like madison great school, but for the past 2 years a number of foreign professor has increased which made it a bit difficult to learn the material.

Having grown up in the Milwaukee area, I selected UWM as a "for now" situation, planning to transfer out after a year or two. After arriving at UWM and learning about the Business Scholars program and their excellent study abroad program, I decided to stay, because I found that I could be proud of my education after completing due to the diversity of experiences and honors that can be achieved.

I am glad my undergraduate experience was during a transitional phase of UWM, but I would probably more seriously consider better-known business programs.

I am still curious about schools outside of the area but I did enjoy my time spent at UWM.

I believe the school offers a competitive education in an environment that isn't so competitive to promote peer competition rather than a focus on education.

I chose this school because I was too lazy to look for another, but I had a decent time here other than the students I had a great experience in my courses.

I enjoyed it, although some of the professors were not what I had expected.

I enjoyed my experience here at UWM, however Madison cost about the same price at Milwaukee and has a better reputation in the accounting field

I enjoyed my time here at UWM and I would attend the university again. I liked the campus and location.

I enjoyed the atmosphere of the campus and I also loved the opportunities that UWM provided for students to succeed (a.k.a the Business Scholars Program)

I feel like I had a good experience here at UWM

I found lots of opportunities to grow at UWM and I like the city.

I had a good experience at UWM

I had a great 4 years, enjoyed most of my professors and met some new friends along the way.

I had heard good things about UWM through friends and alumni. I wouldn't have minded looking into Marquette, but I knew the tuition there would be too high.

I had to transfer home due to financial concerns from a different University. Ended up really enjoying and happy to be a Panther and graduating from UWM.

I like being close to home; however, I may have learned to become more independent of my parents etc. had I chosen a school further away.

I like the location of the campus and the accounting program.

I like UWM.

I liked the academics, but wish there were more school spirit/athletics

I love the community and there is so much to do in Milwaukee not to mention all the cities sports.

I love the Investment Management Certificate Program and that provides great opportunities, however aside from that UW-Mil lacks the respect from employers that Marquette and Madison get. It would be nice to see Milwaukee be tougher in admissions and be less of a research school, to compete with other schools on a job placement percentage.

I may have gone out of state, somewhere warm. But education wise, UWM was great.

I met a ton of great people and had a fun time in school.

I met my best friends here. I love the city of Milwaukee.

I moved to Milwaukee and UWM was the right fit.

I possibly decide to go somewhere that I would be able to live on campus.

I really enjoyed attending a school in a city. UWM provided an excellent freshman experience for me living in the dorms. Living off but near campus was also a rewarding experience especially in the city. I also enjoyed the class sizes. The large lectures were many times accompanied by a discussion section.

I really like this school. I am an international student, I may try to go to other place and get more experience.

I started out really excited about my classes but as time went on my professors seemed to decline in quality and have been very disappointed these last few semesters. I am going to continue for my MBA and I hope to find better quality. I think professors are there to actually teach you something and should be excited about what they are teaching. Many professors I have had recently expect you to learn everything out of the book and just waste time during class, instead of actually teaching the students. Convenience is the primary reason for considering UWM for my MBA program.

I think if I would have tried harder I could have gone to a better school

I transferred here after attending 2 other schools, UW-Eau Claire and then UW-Fox Valley, this was a good move for me to finish my business degree here.

I wanted to go to a out of state school but couldn't afford it.

I wanted to stay in Milwaukee, and UWM offered the program I wanted and I think that I am receiving a good education.

I was interested in Accounting from the beginning, and learned that UWM had an extremely well-structured Accounting program.

I would chose Madison because it costs about the same and it is closer to home.

I would have completed my basic general requirement classes at MATC because they offer the same classes for much cheaper, and finished my degree at UWM with the courses I needed to graduate in my major.

I would have gotten a more nailed out class schedule before going into my semesters.

I would have tried to get in somewhere bigger.

It has a good business school.

It has been a good school for the last four years.

It is a great school for accounting and is a great opportunity for networking.

It offered the degree program I wanted and the variety of times the classes were offered was helpful.

It was a fun journey from the beginning to the end. I've had such a fun experience, learning, growing, making mistakes and making all the friends that have become so dear to me. Thank you for giving me these things UWM!!

It was a good experience and great faculty

It was close to home and the people and professors in the school were professional and willing to help.

It was close to home, convenient.

It was successful, I will be done in four years, and I made some good friends.

It's a convenient location; there are plenty of jobs in this city and having a school in proximity cuts down on commuting time.

I wish the curriculum would have been shaped better for my major. As an ITM major I learned more about non IT related topics than anything else. I felt as though the IT offerings for this major were rather weak. I easily learn more IT based information at work than I do in school.

It's a great school that taught me a lot about life and opened me up as a person, and it also help me better understand how people grow and become independent as they go through their years here.

It's a great school with many great professors.

It's close to family and friends.

It's laid back atmosphere makes getting through easier but majority of instructors are under qualified or lack real drive to teach accordingly.

I've enjoyed my experience here more often each year that I'm here!

Just enjoyed it here, had the chance to meet a lot of new friends and the professors were good.

Lack of Ethnic Diversity

location and services offered are a plus but many of the T.A.'s and teachers leave something to be desired.

Location of campus is nice, I like the proximity of the campus buildings.

Choose UWM again? Why or why not?

Probably

Low cost, convenient location

Lubar school of business was a great place to learn a bachelor degree.

Met lots of great people and love the city of Milwaukee

My experience as a UWM student has been limited to a commuting student with evening classes which does not allow the full UWM experience. Nonetheless it has been a positive stay overall. I've enjoyed the teaching staff as well as the friends I've made while here.

nice campus, good name

Overall a very satisfying college experience.

Overall it was a good experience

Overall, I enjoyed my experience at UWM.

Overall, it was a good experience, but I can't really say there was anything that really stood out to make me want to come back specifically to UWM. Like I said though, it was still a good experience.

Probably would have gone to Madison...But overall I really enjoyed Milwaukee

Pros: Price was fairly reasonable, I Liked most of the faculty and staff.

Cons: A bit difficult to graduate in 4 yrs

Really enjoyed the Business school. Experiences in the Peck school of arts were less satisfactory. The ITM program at uw-m excels at state of the art education and technology. Also schedule flexibility, particularly in the last few years is incredible.

Some great professors and some bad professors

some of the courses that I had to complete were not even associated with my degree

Some of the teachers I feel were not qualified.

Some professors were better than others.

Student teachers for full tuition price is unacceptable

The accounting program is a good program which sets you up to succeed. I feel the professors were strong teachers and good mentors.

The accounting program is great -- all of the professor's are highly qualified and do a great job. The career center is also really beneficial as well. However, the Finance program needs a major facelift. Outside of Spellman and McBain, the majority of teachers I had seemed to either not care or not have the skills necessary to properly teach the subject matter to college students.

The accounting program is one of the top in the state and the location is close to my hometown

The building locations and housing are close by each other.

The course material was good, however I encountered many foreign professors and TAs that were difficult to understand. Most of my professors encouraged and supported out of class study, however there were a few professors I came into contact with that seemed not to care about their students.

The location was convenient for me to get my bachelors degree.

The professors are really understanding and everyone is really nice. Plus it's a great location right next to the lake and just north of the city

The school has a good business program

The University of Wisconsin LaCrosse allows students to graduate in 4.5 years with 150 credits instead of paying graduate school prices. They also require a full time semester internship.

Their Business program is one of the most reputable in the area and the education I received will be very useful in business for my whole career.

This school is very good for education as wide range of study field.

This university offers a range of academic opportunities alongside an education that surely grows and develops students.

Too close to home, thought I wanted to move further away.

uwm gives me the necessary skills to prepare me for real world

UWM has been a great school

UWM has been such an amazing experience that I wouldn't trade for any other college

UWM is a great school.

School/College Sheldon B. Lubar School of Business

Choose UWM again? Why or why not?

Probably

UWM offered great education at a reasonable price. UWM also has very well run student organizations, extra curricular activities and other aspects of student life.

UWM was everything that I expected it to be when I chose to come here. It meet all of my expectations but the lack of an athletic program really turned me off and is the only thing that I would want to change about my college experience. I am grateful for what UWM gave me academically and through networking but I feel no sense of school pride and I feel that the most of the that is due to the lack of an athletic program.

Very straight forward campus. Enjoyed the variety of teaching techniques Wasn't a spectacular experience. Also wasn't terrible.

Well UW-Milwaukee is located just on the other side of town from where I live. Also i think the tuition cost is reasonable compare to paying out of state tuiton fees if I had went to school out of state. Also I enjoyed my experience here as a student and think Lubar is an excellent business school.

Yes

Yes, after I had completed an associate's degree first.

Yes, because it has been rewarding to attend UWM.

Probably no

Accounting is the only ok program in the business school.

Cost of living quality of education

I appreciate what UWM has done for me, but I feel a real disconnect with the students. They lack drive. Classes are far too easy and there is way too much extra credit given - because otherwise students would do so poorly.

I don't feel as though I was challenged enough to complete the required courses. Curved grades allowed many people to pass where they would otherwise fail.

I found only small pockets within the UWM community that made me feel welcome. As a whole I believe many of the programs are run inefficiently and cause students to suffer unacceptable delays.

I liked my experience at UWM thus far but I think that having a degree from UWM doesnt hold that much weight when looking for a career. I would rather choose to have a degree from MSOE or Alverno. I feel like there are a lot of slackers at UWM that still pass and Id rather go to a school where the students are there to learn and strive to do well.

I missed out on the whole college of experience of school morale. Without a football team this school really isn't that... entertaining and exciting. It was like a more intense High School, rather than a college.

I wanted to go out of state to Kansas University but with my situation I was unable to

I would have chosen online school as the accounting degree can be completed online.

I would have decided to dorm at a different college that was more of a business school, and had more options for classes. I would have dormed and stayed close to campus because commuting was horrible. I would have liked to enroll in a smaller school.

I would have preferred to go to UW-Madison

I would like to keep this to myself.

It is too crowd. The relationship with the teachers was almost non existant. There were good resources available to students as far as careers go, but I did not like the T.A system thats in place. I would rather speak directly to the teacher.

It's become far to expensive. I would probably just go to a technical college.

Most of the professor did not care about the students and a lot of the teaching methods needed improvements!

N/A

Originally came for architecture, went to business and is alright but some classes are not realistic and don't seem all that applicable for the real world.

Required classes changed during time here and instead of grandfathering current students already in you had to take the new requirements.

School/College Sheldon B. Lubar School of Business

Choose UWM again? Why or why not?

Probably no

Some of the teachers I encountered in my ending semesters taught me nothing about the real world or how to use things from class in the real world. When it comes to that it just feels like a waste of time and money.

The reasons why I choose UW-M was to save money since I could still commute to school & it was a reputable school. However, looking back - I see people from private schools who land jobs that I had to work my but off to get, with ease. This is due to the alumni connections they have (I believe). With that said, I think networking, career services, and opportunities are greater at private schools. The best thing I liked about UW-M though, was its Investment Program. That would be the one thing in particular that would draw me straight to UW-M and also recommend the school going forward.

Too big of a city, original major only had universities that offered, then switched Too Liberal

UWM is a commuter's college. You don't get the full experience. Student organizations and whatnot are not as strong because students commute and do not live on campus to keep the organizations strong. UWM is very crowded and the classrooms can be full. I would prefer a smaller University...

Definitely no

I would not choose to attend UWM again. Particularly, the business school was unfair, classes were inconsistent, and two students who took the same class with different teachers could get two completely different grades. This seemed to be the theme of my college career.

There isn't any school spirit or full campus activities way too many people on too small of a campus

Close to home and work.

I like it at UWM especially the accounting program i just wish i knew what i wanted to do sooner

The school is a very comfortable place to be. The environment is great.
