Choose UWM again?	Why or why not?
Definitely	Good experiences at UWM. Great experiences. Great faculty, great students, great environment Great professors and great class sizes! Very flexible schedule online as well! I enjoyed my time at UWM and would definitely choose to come here again. I liked the overall campus atmosphere as well as the competency of the instructors and the quality of the classes. I feel like I have Learned more than the previous school. I felt at home at UWM I wish I would have started my education here, it would have saved me a lot of time trying to find a program that fit my interests. I had a most enjoyable experience with all my online courses. I transferred from UWGB to UWM. The SOIS department at UWM is great. It was close to home and in a large city. Looks of activities and events every year make this school appealing to me. It's good school with good program for undergrad. The School of Information Studies is a great place to be. UWM did its job to get me through. I just didn't give back what they gave me. UWM has not only offered me an education, but an opportunity to gain work experience while working for Network Operations here on campus. Was extremely convenient for me and I wound up really enjoying school.
Probably	For me I feel as though i could of gotten an associates at MATC then go on to work to gain various amounts of experience. But having a bachelors is one of the best feelings in the world. Good atmosphere, good instructors. I attended Marquette my freshman year and it was too expensive for me and didn't have the major that I wanted. So UWM would have been my choice regardless. I love the city and I was an athlete here but I do not like a lot of the academic rigamarole I ran into through my years. I wish that there was closer relation between advisers and students early on in your college career. I realized I wanted to take a major that was offered at UWM and covered my desired classes I was offered a job in downtown Milwaukee which swayed my decision to attend UWM. I would of like to have gone to Madison, but my wife got a job in Milwaukee. I would prefer more hands on learning and teachers who seem to care. My first major, kinesiology, was very unforgiving and the professors never seemed to care how you did. In IST I feel welcomed and that my teachers want me to succeed. I would prefer to attend a technical college. It was really nice being able to finish my degree all online Simply a matter of location. The cost is cheaper than MSOE The school of information sciences has been very helpful and I have enjoyed the classes that I have taken and the people I have met
Probably no	I think if I did it all over I would want to leave the state to see what another area of the country is like. Too many factors led to roadblocks in my personal life during each term either related to work or family health. I liked going to a place close to home, but I wish I would have applied to other colleges. I thought that they would be too expensive, but I should've tried to get scholarships. But UWM fit nicely into the way that I had graduated from high school and entered college at a weird time. I really liked the learning environment.
