

2015 School of Architecture & Urban Planning Graduates

"If you had it to do all over again, would you choose UWM? Why or why not?"

Definitely

Architecture program is great

Because of the Architecture program.

Close proximity to work and home.

Great campus and community.

I enjoyed the architecture program and like the location.

I enjoyed the many options for classes here, and it is close to where my family lives.

I loved the experience I had at U.W.M. Made lifelong friends and was in a fantastic major program at SARUP. Do not regret my choice by going to U.W.M.

I wanted to attend my undergraduate career close to home and major in architecture. UWM is the only university that offers bachelor's degrees in architecture in the state of Wisconsin.

It was a great experience, meeting people and creating connections throughout the years. The classes here at UWM have a life changing experience in each one.

It was close to home and offered the courses required for a degree in architecture.

Only Architecture program in the state, but a very good one.

SARUP is a national-class architecture school at an affordable tuition.

The connections I made at UW-Milwaukee and my ability to thrive I'm not sure I could have achieved at any other school. It just feels like home to me and graduating is really bittersweet for me. I'm happy to move up, but I'm going to miss my time at UWM.

the way that the program works you in from the moment you get on to campus was different than the other experiences that i have herd about.

They have a fantastic architecture school

UWM has a high standard regarding its architecture program and is with out a doubt the best choice in the midwest when looking at schools for architecture programs.

Yes I would do it the same as I did this time. UWM has a great Architecture program along with great professors who are more than willing to help whenever you may need it.

Probably

because it is a good school for the program I chose

I have really enjoyed my time at the university, and I love the city.

I take pride in the public education process within Wisconsin and everything worked out for me to finish here. Maybe with the knowledge I have now I would have pursued it differently, yet I believe UW - Milwaukee would have been apart of it one way or another.

I would have more than likely chose to attend UWM simply for its Architecture program. I also had a good experience with the people throughout the program.

In-state tuition helped a lot, and I enjoyed the program and my overall experience here; I only wonder how my experience would have been out-of-state.

The program is focused on what I am interested in.

UWM offers a great architecture program within the midwest, and is one of the only accredited programs

When I started looking at Undergraduate schools I was committed to going to as public school within the state of Wisconsin. Ultimately, for my major, I was presented with much of a choice. Despite this I would probably do it again if need be.

Probably No

I don't like the city or the overall flow of the campus. Architecture program was great though.

Since I didn't have anything in mind when I started school, it was fine. If only I knew I wanted to do Architecture school, I would have gone to a more professional architecture school with more options.
