Join us for an evening with award winning author, Edwidge Danticat. Danticat is a Haitian-born author who has written several books including her latest, Brother, I'm Dying, which won the National Book Critics Circle Award in 2007. She won a Granta Regional Award for the Best Young American Novelists for her first book, Breath, Eyes,

Memory, which was a selection in Oprah Winfrey's Book Club. Danticat's writing has appeared in the New Yorker and other anthologies. Named "One of 20 people in their twenties who will make a difference" by Harper's Bazaar, and featured in New York Times Magazine as one of "30 Under 30" creative people to watch, Danticat has also taught at New York University and University of Miami.
