Program

All presentations will be at the UWM Hefter Center. The Hefter Center is located at 3271 N. Lake Drive, a few blocks east of the main UWM campus. There should be ample street parking in the neighborhood around the center – check the street signage for any specific restrictions.

The 42nd Annual Midwest Conference on Andean and Amazonian Archaeology and Ethnohistory will take place on Saturday, March 1st. This year the conference will not extend into Sunday morning; those remaining in town may be interested in the Milwaukee Public Museum’s special exhibit, Body World. The MPM is offering discounted admissions for conference attendees on Friday and Sunday.

The closing reception will be held at the Hefter Center on Saturday evening, from 5:00 to 7:00 PM, in conjunction with an informal Fireside Chat. There will be light snacks and a no-host bar.

Saturday, March 1, 2014

9:00-9:20 Registration (free)
    Coffee & Pastries
9:20-9:30 Welcome
    (Jean Hudson and Victor Ponte, University of Wisconsin – Milwaukee)
9:30-9:50 John E. Staller & Sergio Chávez
    (Central Michigan University)
    High Altitude Zea mays L. (Tunqu) Cultivation and Endemism in the Lake Titicaca Basin
9:50-10:10 Emily Stovel
    (Ripon College)
    Sigamos Interactuando 2: A Collaborative Workshop on Ancient Ceramics
10:10-10:30 Anna Guengerich
    (University of Chicago)
    Architecture and Organization of Chachapoya Settlements:
    A View from the Site of Monte Viudo
10:30-11:00 Coffee Break
11:00-11:20 Lidio M. Valdez
    (MacEwan University)
    The Use of Coca Leaves in the Peruvian Central Highlands before the Inka
11:20-11:40 Victor M. Ponte
    (University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee)
    Preliminary Analysis of Recuay Mortuary Practices in the North Central Highlands of Peru
11:40-2:00 Lunch Break
2:00-2:20 Jean Hudson, Brian Billman, and Jesus Briceño
    (University of Wisconsin – Milwaukee; University of North Carolina - Chapel Hill; Ministerio de Cultura, Perú)
    Subsistence Fishing, Past and Present, on the Northern Coast of Peru
2:20-2:40  Kasia Szremski
(Vanderbilt University)
Resource Sharing during the Late Intermediate Period (1100-1470 AD): Evaluating the Relationship between Chancay Settlers and Local Groups in the Huanangue Valley, Peru

2:40-3:00  Coffee Break

3:00-3:20  Margaret Brown Vega and Gerbert Asencios Lindo
(Indiana University-Purdue University Fort Wayne; Ministerio de Cultura, Perú)
Results from On-going Research on Defensive Landscapes of the Central Coast of Perú: Fortifications in the Pativilca Valley

3:20-3:40  Amber Anderson
(SUNY at Buffalo, Medaille College)
More than Forts: Inca Ideology, Economics, and Warfare in the Pambamarca Fortress Complex, Ecuador

3:40-4:40  Poster Viewing with Authors Present
Andrea Heile and Danielle Kurin
(University of Wisconsin – Madison; University of California Santa Barbara)
A Bioarchaeological and Ethnohistoric Study of Trophy Taking among the Chanka of Ancient Peru
Diane Newbury
(University of Wisconsin – Milwaukee)
Coastal Andean Featherwork – When Birds and Mammals Come Together

4:40-5:00  Business Meeting

5:00-7:00  Closing Reception & Fireside Chat: Insights from the Field

The Fireside Chat is a time to relax and reflect about memorable moments of insight that come from years in the field, and to discuss further the new questions and ideas the papers and posters of this year’s conference might add.