There is considerable value to being heard and understood by someone who has made a profession of career guidance. I sense a commitment to being focused and effective and received reassurance that I matter.

- Robert M.

I connected with Rachelle right away. She listened attentively to my situation and understood my desperation for help! I got an appointment the same day and she went through a series of questions to find out more about my situation, what I wanted and how the CTC could help.

- Melissa C.

From the beginning my experience at the Career Transitions Center was extremely helpful. Rachelle was instrumental in deciding which tests to take and the career counselor who would be right for me.
