FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Dec. 20, 2013

Contact: Cathy Prescher, cdp@uwm.edu, 414-227-3143

Biz Times

Biz Connections, Personnel File

Education

The UWM School of Continuing Education recently selected Anne O’Meara as the program director for Project Management, Business Analysis and Technical Writing. Anne holds a master’s in Administrative Leadership/Adult Education from UW-Milwaukee and a B.A. with honors (Phi Beta Kappa) in Journalism from UW-Madison. She has worked in education and management in Milwaukee and Chicago. Anne has run programs and conferences in the areas of writing and publishing, business and technical writing, public speaking, as well as art and accessibility for people with disabilities.

Rick Gorko recently was hired as a business development manager for the Small Business Development Center at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee. Rick possesses extensive experience in the business development and finance fields. He previously directed the Small Business Development Center in Niagara County, New York for 16 years. He also has led international trade delegations to several countries in Europe and China. Rick holds a B.A. in economics from Buffalo State College and is a graduate of the Executive Development Program from the National School of Finance and Management at Fairfield University.

###

About the School of Continuing Education: As one of 14 schools and colleges that comprise the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, SCE offers participants an assortment of over 1,500 programs and 600 practitioner instructors. With nearly 20,000 participants each year, SCE is the largest provider of noncredit continuing education in southeastern Wisconsin. Its mission is to generate knowledge and learning opportunities for those interested in developing professional skills in business, technology and human services, enriching their lives with classes in arts and humanities or those who are simply looking for a new intellectual challenge.