BECOMING AN OSHER MEMBER

The Osher Lifelong Learning Institute is a membership organization for adults 50 and over who understand that quality of life is enhanced through learning. You need not be an alumnus/alumna of UWM in order to join. Osher is the perfect way to expand your knowledge while joining more than 900 like-minded, active, older adults.

Osher Member Benefits

- Attend short courses and lectures taught by UWM faculty, Osher members and other noted experts that explore a variety of thought-provoking topics
- Participate in Go Explore excursions to some of the most interesting places in the Greater Milwaukee area
- Enroll in peer-directed Special Interest Groups focused on a variety of subjects
- Receive discounts on travel programs to remarkable locations around the world
- Enjoy social events throughout the year
- Meet new friends who share a love of learning
- Keep up to date on the organization with the bi-monthly newsletter highlighting member profiles, future activities and events of interest
- Obtain a complimentary library card for the UWM Golda Meir Library
- Receive a membership directory

Become a Member

You must be a member of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at UWM to register for programs. If you have not joined Osher or renewed your membership, you may do so by including the membership fee with the registration form on pages 41 & 42, or visit our website at sce-osopher.uwm.edu. To verify your membership status, call the Osher office at 414-227-3321.

Annual membership is $45 per person. For couples or two individuals living at the same address (whether spouses, siblings or partners) and requesting only one copy of mailed information, dues are $80.

Reciprocity with Other Osher Lifelong Learning Institutes

Members in good standing in another Osher group may pay the usual event fee and attend any Osher offering while visiting. Those who move here will be considered members until the next annual memberships fee is due. They may then pay UWM School of Continuing Education Osher dues and continue in good standing.

HOW TO PARTICIPATE

Registration

Once you’ve joined Osher, registration is required for program participation. Registration for any course or program is open until one week before the start date. However, classes fill up quickly, so we encourage you to register early.

Registration Options

PRESENTERS

September 9
Marissa Jablonski “Sustainable Engineering in Guatemala and India”
More than 5 billion people around the world are in dire need of major engineering involving water distribution, sanitation and infrastructure. Learn about the construction of international sustainable engineering projects in developing communities by student organizations like Engineers Without Borders. Marissa Jablonski is a civil engineering Ph.D. student at UWM. She is focusing her dissertation on sustainable oxidation of textile wastewater and is working to create small-scale wastewater treatment units for cottage textile industries. Jablonski trained at NEERI in Nagpur, India and BNU in Beijing, China in 2010 and 2012. She served as co-chair of UWM’s student chapter of Engineers Without Borders from 2007-2009 and continues to help design and implement water distribution projects in Guatemala. She received her B.S. in natural resources and Spanish from UW-Stevens Point, and her M.S. in civil engineering from UWM.

September 16
Bruce Nemovitz “Moving in the Right Direction: A Senior’s Guide to Moving and Downsizing” Consider the emotions that hold seniors back in making a move from a long-time home to a senior apartment, condo or community. Gain tools and information for downsizing and get an overview of the “new buyer” in today’s market. Learn about current real estate market trends as well as how to prepare your home for market. Bruce Nemovitz is a senior real estate specialist and certified senior advisor. Bruce has sold residential homes in the four county Milwaukee metro areas for 36 years and received the 2010 Realtor of the Year award from the Greater Milwaukee Association of Realtors. He has also published a book, “Moving in the Right Direction.”

September 23
Tom Strini “The Origins of the American Songbook” Survey American popular music from Stephen Foster to minstrelsy, George M. Cohan, and the earliest days of the Jazz Age to Irving Berlin. Tom Strini was music and dance critic at the “Milwaukee Journal” and “Journal Sentinel” for 27 years. Since August of 2009, he has been senior editor of ThirdCoastDaily.com, an online culture magazine. Strini also teaches “American Songbook 1920-1960” at the UWM Honors College, and “Seeing Hearing Writing.”
September 30
Julie Swenson, Suzan Fete & Jenny Wanasek “Word Play with Renaissance Theaterworks” Meet the women of Renaissance Theaterworks as they share their story of 20 years in Milwaukee. Learn about their 2013-2014 shows with a reading from “The Belle of Amherst,” a play based on the life of Emily Dickinson, by William Luce. Take part in a Word Play event where theatrical themes inspire a combination of poetry and visual art. Founded in 1993, Renaissance Theaterworks is Milwaukee’s only women-founded, women-run theater company. Its mission is to create moving theater that awakens our recognition of what it is to be human – from classics to world premieres – with attention to women’s roles onstage and off. Julie Swenson is producing director for RTW and Suzan Fete is a co-founder, co-artistic director and will be directing “The Belle of Amherst.” Jenny Wanasek is a featured actor in RTW’s production of the play and teaches in the UWM Theater Department.

October 7
Priscilla Kucik “The Medieval Courts of ‘Love’” In the days before Charades and Pictionary, and long before Judge Judy, on cold winter nights in drafty castles, people amused themselves by holding a “Court of Love” and bringing several cases “to trial.” Men would grovel and snivel. Women would be cold, distant and unattainable. Unrequited love would lead to superb poetry and music. It was innocent entertainment. Or was it? Explore the 12th century in Europe as love became associated with sex. The world was never the same. Priscilla Kucik has been a member of the medieval recreation organization, The Society for Creative Anachronism, for more than 35 years and is known as a 14th century Slovak lady that rode off with the Mongol Horde under the name of Mistress Priscilla the Sensible. She is a member of the St. Andrew’s Society of Milwaukee, charter member and president of the Robert Burns Club of Milwaukee, and served as a past Wisconsin commissioner for Clan MacLeod. She has also studied the Hebrew and Christian scriptures.

Taoist Insights
The ancient Chinese philosophy of Taoism contains profound insights into human life and its relation to the world. Using selections from the Tao Te Ching and other Taoist texts, explore the fundamental nature of life’s changes as well as how one can learn to live a balanced and harmonious life.

PRESENTER
Carolyn Sweers earned a master’s degree in philosophy from Boston University and for 25 years taught philosophy and history courses at New Trier High School in Winnetka, Illinois. After retiring in 1994, Carolyn taught older adult education programs in the Chicago area and has been teaching for Osher over the past three years.

Mind Aerobics
Explore a variety of tools to help you with brain fitness while having fun. The only equipment needed is imagination and the willingness to disturb old habit-patterns for the day. No matter how young or old you are, this workshop will engage you in mental gymnastics and set you up to improve your mental edge.

PRESENTER
Dr. Murali Vedula’s presentations and classes on the topic of brain fitness have been attended by thousands of active older adults over the past 11 years. He has presented several times at various Milwaukee area institutions, and has received excellent reviews every time. In 2011 and 2012, he presented “Brain Jogging” at the annual meetings of Wisconsin Education Association Council in Wausau and Madison. Dr. Vedula’s articulate, interactive and non-threatening style presents scientific facts in a manner that it is practical and entertaining.

Modern Architecture 1850-1980
Slide presentations complement three lectures exploring the social and technological changes that presaged the rise of modern architecture and its various manifestations in Europe and the U.S.

PRESENTER
Priscilla Camilli received a B.A. in history and an M.A. in art history at UWM. She taught art history at the Milwaukee Center for Photography, MIAD and UW-Parkside in the 1980s. From 1984-2004, she was curator of collections and taught in the Art History Department at UWM. Camilli is married and has three adult children. She enjoys reading, concerts, travel, crossword puzzles and mah jongg.

Oceanography IV

Explore the wonders of waves and tides. Learn about the forces that create both calm surface conditions and ocean waves. Discuss the motion of the water as waves move across the surface, and the changes that occur as they travel from deep water into shallow coastal water. Then, explore some common questions: What do waves and tides have in common, and how are they different? What causes the tides, and how do they change on a daily, monthly and yearly basis? Waves and tides are two of the most commonly observed ocean phenomena – discover the fun in knowing more about them!

Please note: Though this course is a continuation of “Oceanography III,” enrollment in previous sessions is not a prerequisite for enjoying this one.

PRESENTER

Keith Sverdrup joined the faculty in the Department of Geosciences at UWM in 1983. His teaching interest is primarily oceanography, and he is the principal author of three oceanography textbooks. He is a recipient of UWM’s Undergraduate Teaching Award and is a fellow of the Geological Society of America.

Location: UWM Hefter Conference Center, 3271 N. Lake Drive, Milwaukee
Fee: $15
Program No. FALL:18

Buddhism: Suffering, Reincarnation and Nirvana (DVD Course)

Buddhism challenges some of the most important Western ideas about God, human life and the self. In Buddhism there is no single almighty God who created the world. Instead, Buddhism teaches that all of life is suffering, and there is no permanent self. It also teaches that in accepting all of life as suffering, bliss can be achieved in this life. Video presentations by Prof. Malcolm David Eckel, award winning member of the Boston University faculty, are followed by lively discussions.

PRESENTER

Kim Beck is the executive director of the Osher Lifelong Learning Institute at UWM and director of Arts, Humanities and Science in the UWM School of Continuing Education, where he has led a number of programs that focus on world religions. Beck holds a B.A. in philosophy, an M.A. in humanities, and an M.A. in theater and drama.

6 Fridays, September 20 & 27, October 4, 11, 18 & 25 , 2:15-4:15pm
Location: UWM School of Continuing Education, 161 W. Wisconsin Avenue, Suite 6000, Milwaukee
Fee: $20
Program No. FALL:20

Potpourri II

PRESENTERS

October 14
Kathy Johnson “A Knowledge Based Approach to Managing Congestive Heart Failure” Congestive heart failure is the only cardiac diagnosis that is growing in occurrence. Chances are great that, as you age, you are affected personally by this condition either because you or someone you love has been diagnosed. The treatment regimen can feel overwhelming but knowing what happens in the body when heart failure occurs and how medications, diet and activity actually work, can help it all make sense. Kathy Johnson is a registered nurse who worked exclusively with heart failure patients for years, providing support and education.

October 21
Betty Andrews Storey “Adventure to Mount Kilimanjaro” Learn what is involved in attempting to summit the tallest freestanding mountain in the world as you discover the geology and ecology of Mount Kilimanjaro National Park in Tanzania, Africa. See how the terrain varies at different altitudes, learn the importance of a support team for a successful trek, as well as what is required on a personal level. Betty Andrews Storey decided to attempt to trek to the top of Mount Kilimanjaro as a gift to herself for her 70th birthday. She has been an active member of the Wisconsin Go Hiking Club for many years and is interested in the great outdoors, participating in hiking, camping, canoeing and rafting adventures.

October 28
Stan Stojkovic “The Institute for Urban Agriculture and Nutrition Model” Learn about the development of an Institute for Urban Agriculture and Nutrition at UWM, and understand how the consortium of universities and colleges will guide IUAN as it moves forward. The IUAN provides cutting edge research, teaching and service to communities to improve health outcomes – hear about research projects, teaching and service opportunities, and how interested parties can get involved. Dr. Stan Stojkovic is dean and professor of criminal justice at the UWM Helen Bader School of Social Welfare.

November 4
Sabine Heuer “Strategies to Improve Communication with People with Dementia and Aphasia” Stroke and dementia are leading causes of long-term disability in adults. As a consequence of stroke, functions may become impaired or lost, often including speech and language problems, called aphasia. Dementia is a group of symptoms related to memory loss and overall cognitive and communication impairment. Gain communication strategies that caregivers can use to facilitate communication with individuals suffering from aphasia or dementia. Learn about the role of speech-language pathologists in the treatment of cognitive–communicative disorders. Sabine Heuer, Ph.D., CCC-SLP is an assistant professor at UWM. Her expertise is acquired neurogenic cognitive and language disorders. Her research focuses on the assessment of aphasia and how concomitant impairments of attention and working memory affect language abilities.

China in the News NEW!
Join us for a discussion of contemporary issues surrounding China. Examine both American and Chinese viewpoints about job competition, the environment and the involvement of China in financing U.S. debt. Receive an overview of current issues across the news involving human rights, democracy and the military.

PRESENTER
Jim Gennrich directed the International Business Institute at Soochow University in Suzhou, China from 2002 to 2005. He spent a month visiting China again in 2010 to interview former students in international trade.

2 Tuesdays, October 15 & 22, 10-11:15am
Location: UWM School of Continuing Education, 161 W. Wisconsin Avenue, Suite 6000, Milwaukee
Fee: $10
Program No. FALL:24

The Science of Food and Cooking NEW!
Examine the science of cooking, fermenting and baking. Look at the role of protein, carbohydrate and fat in the diet as well as spices, coffee, tea and chocolate. Look at emulsifiers – from preparing a hollandaise sauce to cleaning the dishes. A passion and curiosity about food is all that’s required.

PRESENTER
Alan Friedman has a love of cooking, but since his father was a chef, making a career out of food had no romance for him. Instead, he became a scientist. For Friedman, the kitchen is a laboratory and a place for endless experimentation and learning.

4 Tuesdays, October 15, 22 & 29, November 5, 2:15-3:30pm
Location: UWM Hefter Conference Center, 3271 N. Lake Drive, Milwaukee

Medicare in 2014: What You Don’t Know CAN Hurt You!

80 percent of those with Medicare Part D are paying more than they should. Checking your options each fall could save you, on average, $600. Learn how to use the computer tools that can help you evaluate options for you and your loved ones.

PRESENTER
Margaret Nugent has worked in the Medicare field for over seven years, beginning with the start of Medicare Part D. As the Medicare trainer and counselor for the Greater Wisconsin Agency on Aging Resources, Inc., she prepared resources and provided trainings to benefit specialists and other professionals statewide. She recently finished several years coordinating two grants totaling $2 million to fund outreach to Medicare beneficiaries in Wisconsin. The program helped over 23,000 older or disabled adults to apply for help paying their Medicare costs, resulting in an estimated savings of over $64 million a year for these individuals. Nugent is a native Milwaukeean who received her B.A. in journalism and political science at Marquette University, her master’s and Ph.D. in politics from Princeton University, and also a master’s in pastoral studies from St. Francis Seminary. She is developing a personal business to mentor and provide impartial information to the many Baby Boomers who are turning 65 about the important decisions they face with Medicare. She is providing this class as a service of the Wisconsin State Health Insurance Program (SHIP) and Disability Rights Wisconsin.

Discover the astronomy of comets, where they come from and what they are made of. Learn the best way to view the comet and other exciting astronomical events. Kathy Brehmer retired as the budget manager for Milwaukee Area Technical College in 2009. Since then, she has served on their leadership and development committee, been appointed as treasurer of Osher, tutored math for GED students, and has enjoyed auditing classes at UWM. She Kathy Brehmer (continued) first became interested in astronomy in the 1970s with the growth of the space program. Study in physics and mathematics has left her with a lifelong interest in astronomy and space science.

December 2
Heddy Keith “Introduction to Journal to the Self©” Learn three journal writing techniques as a process of self-discovery. Journal to the Self© techniques are based on the work of journal writing pioneer Kathleen Adams. They help you get in touch with your feelings, increase time management and organization skills, and help identify personal patterns. Don’t worry about grammar, spelling or punctuation. Just get it down on paper. Discover the writer within, for personal growth and creative expression. Heddy Keith, M.Ed. is a retired Milwaukee Public Schools language arts teacher of 24 years. She is the founder and president of the Milwaukee Writer’s Circle, and producer and host of “Meet the Author” television talk show. She writes curriculum, grants, short stories, memoir, poetry and newsletters. Keith is a certified Journal to the Self© instructor. Her passion for writing began at an early age. She says, “Writing is therapeutic. There’s something magical about writing that heals.” She is currently working on her memoir, “Ms. Heddy Through it All.”

Joan Garland “Wisconsin Whooping Crane Reintroduction” In 1941, the last migratory flock of whooping cranes was reduced to only 16 birds, and the species became nearly extinct due to human activities. The elegant bird is now on the verge of an extraordinary comeback with a reintroduction project currently underway to restore a migratory flock of whooping cranes to eastern North America. Now in its 12th year, the project is being undertaken by the Whooping Crane Eastern Partnership, a team of nonprofit and governmental agencies, whose founding members include the International Crane Foundation. See how the ICF works worldwide to conserve cranes as well as the wetland and grassland ecosystems on which they depend. Joan Garland is the education outreach coordinator at the ICF in Baraboo, Wisconsin. She has worked at ICF for 13 years and is one of the chairs of the Whooping Crane Eastern Partnership. Garland has accompanied the ultralight-led whooping crane migration down to Florida. She also works on crane conservation education programs in Texas, northeastern China and Russia.

Taking the Scare Out of Medicare: For Those Nearing Medicare Age or Those Confused by All the Changes

Medicare A, B, C and D: When and how do you enroll? What does each part cover? How do you get help with the costs? How do you decide between a Medicare Supplement and a Medicare Advantage Plan, and whether or not you keep any retiree coverage you may have? This course addresses these questions and demonstrates how to use the various websites and comparison tools to manage your Medicare.

Please note: This session is not a continuation of the previous one; it will cover the same material as before.

FINANCIAL STRATEGIES FOR SUCCESSFUL RETIREMENT

Get equipped with the facts you need to prepare for a financially secure retirement. Learn to maximize your income and get more from investments. Protect your hard-earned money from inflation, income taxes and erosion due to possible long-term health care needs. This seminar will show you a conservative approach to wise money management and will identify lifestyle issues facing retirees. The instructors provide information that is current, comprehensive and noncommercial. The material is relevant to those in the early stage of retirement planning as well as those who are very close to retirement or just completed retirement.
