Recommendation of the Economic Benefits Committee to establish uniformity of faculty salary across departments for summer session teaching.

1. The Chancellor is requested to initiate discussions with UW System Administration to permit the following statement to become Administrative Policy:

   Summer session salaries shall be based on the rate of 1/9 of a faculty member's academic year salary for each three-credit course or its equivalent as defined by Departmental faculty action. Salary for courses of less than 3 credits or more than 3 credits shall be reduced or increased accordingly.

2. A professor may not teach more than the equivalent of two 3-credit courses in any combination of summer sessions. Neither shall a professor combine a teaching load that includes two or more simultaneous assignments to courses of four weeks or less.

Revised version accepted by UWM Administration and the University Committee:

Summer Session Appointment Guideline

The contractual period for regular summer teaching appointments shall be either four weeks or eight weeks. Consistent with summer session needs and with approval by the department and the dean, faculty members may be permitted to allocate their teaching, research, and service activities differentially within the contractual period. The rate of pay shall be 1/9 of the previous academic year salary for each equivalent four weeks of full-time service.

Contractual arrangements for mini-courses, conferences, and special teaching assignment shall be negotiated individually.
