U.W.M. Economic Benefits Committee

The Committee met four times during the academic year to March 15. During these meetings it did the following:

1. Agonized over finding someone to serve as Chairperson, and ended up electing Professor Clear, his unenthusiasm over the position having been found to be less convincing than that of any other member.

2. Tried to figure out its role (with noteworthy lack of success), and ended up deciding to continue meeting as the need arose to deal with specific matters rather than to adopt a vigorous stand of independent advocacy for this or that.

3. After careful deliberation, debate, exchange of ideas and viewpoints, drafted policy recommendations on the following matters at the request of the Faculty Senate:
   a. Recommendation on uniformity of faculty salaries for summer session teaching
   b. Recommendation regarding faculty governance of summer session staffing.

4. Discussed matters of mutual interest with Professor Schur regarding the system-wide economic benefits committee.

5. Continued to puzzle over exactly how recommendations for faculty compensation are, in fact, made; by whom; to whom; and based on what information.
