During the year the Committee met December 18 and March 18. At the December meeting a request was made to have clarified the position of the UW-M Admissions Committee with respect to the University Admissions Committee at Madison. A conference between Provost Klotsche and the Chairman of the Committee, followed by a discussion between Provost Klotsche and Vice-President Clodius, established the fact that the University Admissions Committee represents "...the total University. If actions and decisions of the University Admissions Committee are not appropriate for Milwaukee, then it would be proper for the UW-M Admissions Committee to consider these and bring their recommendations to the UW-M Faculty, since it is an instrument created by the Milwaukee Faculty."

The Committee recommended that better representation on the University Admissions Committee be provided. The result was that Professor William Jenkins was appointed as the second UW-M representative on the University Admissions Committee at Madison. The other Milwaukee representative is the Chairman of the UW-M Admissions Committee.

The second meeting was held to review changes in admissions policy being considered by the University Admissions Committee, meeting at Madison. Specific recommendations were made for the Chairman to bring to the University Admissions Committee for consideration. All of the recommendations suggested by the Milwaukee Committee were adopted for inclusion in the recommendations that the University Admissions Committee intends to bring to the Faculty.

The two formal meetings were supplemented by numerous conferences, telephone conversations and communications between members of the Milwaukee Committee.
