The Committee met twice a semester during the academic year: September 10, November 12, February 11 and May 11.

During that year our work focused partly on the Committee's ongoing projects and responsibilities, namely the Chancellor's Golda Meir Library Scholar Award, the Fromkin Lecture and the Archives Subcommittee. My especial thanks to the committee members who volunteered to work on these various projects and subcommittees.

However, most of the Committee's attention focused on the threats to the health of the library. We reviewed the administration's proposals for budget cuts and worked to keep all faculty fully informed of such painful decisions as journal cancellations. We advocated for both short-term capital projects (such as more compact shelving) and for the much-needed long-term Stage IV expansion.

At every meeting we were briefed on different aspects of the Library's operations. We were impressed and supportive of the work of the staff under Interim Director Barczyk.
