The Student Counseling & Guidance Committee held three meetings at which various plans for academic advising in the several divisions of the University were received. The new plan of academic advising in the College of Letters & Science was outlined by Associate Dean Hayes and its progress will be followed by the committee. Anticipated changes in the Counseling Department were reviewed for the committee by the Director.

Recommendation of the Committee

The committee recommends that the Dean of the School of Fine Arts or his duly appointed representative be added as an ex-officio member of this committee.
