Annual Report of the UWM Archives Committee, 1965-66

The Committee has held three meetings so far this year.

Frederick I. Olson who had served as chairman of the committee since its inception, retired. A resolution of thanks to him was passed unanimously by the committee, noting his efforts to establish the Archives on a firm foundation, and to ensure that vital records were not lost.

Archivist Donald Woods has kept the committee in touch with his activities. His report to the Librarian appeared in "Incipit".

The committee suggests that an exhibit of significant documents might be held in connection with the forthcoming tenth anniversary of UWM and has offered its services to the administration in setting up such an exhibit.

The committee draws the attention of all academic units to the desirability of turning over records at regular intervals to the archives. This will ensure that proper records are kept of the University at one of its greatest periods of development.
