The Appeals Section did not meet during the year as no cases were referred to it.

The Students Life and Interests Committee suggested some minor changes in procedure at the Administrative Section level. These changes conform to the charge outlined in Rules and Regulations for UWM Standing Committees, February 1966. After reducing these changes to outline form they were approved by the Appeals Section. A copy is attached.

One unfilled vacancy existed on the Committee due to H. Ahlgren leaving in January 1967.

Procedure for Administering Student Conduct

The University of Wisconsin - Milwaukee expects its students to show a mature sense of responsibility. Consequently, listing of specific rules of conduct and behavior is kept to a minimum. However, certain types of behavior or conduct cannot be tolerated due to the effect on other students, on the University, or on the student himself. In such cases appropriate action must be taken.

Steps to be followed in cases of alleged misconduct -

Classroom Dishonesty. Procedure as outlined in Rules and Regulations for UWM Standing Committees.

All Other Cases

1. Complaint made to Dean of Student Affairs

2. (a) Case may be referred to appropriate dean, depending on sex of student.

   (b) If case cannot be closed to the satisfaction of both student and complainant at this level, it will be referred back to the Dean of Student Affairs and may carry a recommendation that it be heard by the Student Court.

   (c) If the Dean of Student Affairs agrees, the case may be heard by the Student Court whose recommendation will be submitted to the Dean of Student Affairs.

   (d) The Dean of Student Affairs, together with the dean or director of the school, in which the student is enrolled, will study the Student Court recommendation and make a decision.

   (e) If the decision under (d) is not acceptable to both student and complainant, the case will be referred to the Administration Section of the Student Conduct and Appeals Committee for decision.

3. The Dean of Student Affairs may, at his discretion, after Step 2 (b) refer the case directly to the Administrative Section.

4. Any decision made by the Administrative Section may be appealed by the student to the Appeals Section as provided in the Rules and Regulations for UWM Standing Committees.
