RECOMMENDATION

ADDING AND DROPPING COURSES

ADDING COURSES

Students at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee may add courses to their schedule, with the approval of the instructor, through the third week of classes.

DROPPING COURSES

A student may reduce his program to the minimum credit load (of his school or college) by dropping a course or courses during the first twelve weeks of classes, with the permission of his advisor, without incurring a failure in the course or courses dropped.

This recommendation supercedes the relevant portions of UWM FACULTY Document 176 of March 8, 1962.

Recommended by the Joint Student-Faculty Conference Committee on Educational Affairs

C. Baumann
B. Fetter, Chairman
R. Hickman
R. Rosen, Student
J. White, Student
B. Weerts, Student