Report of the Archives Committee

Mr. Woods reported that the Archives brochure recently printed and distributed to the faculty seems to have increased the number of deposits of papers to the Archives. It is encouraging that many unsolicited deposits have been made during the past year, and that faculty members are keeping the Archives in mind when they have papers no longer active.

Dr. Klotsche's book on the history of UWM is the first major publication to make extensive use of the Archives. It has demonstrated their importance and the aid provided by the Curator.

The Committee requested that Mr. Woods begin collecting faculty publications, and memorabilia, and that an annual display of the publications be made in the Library exhibit cases.

The Committee recommended that the Curator collect and retain outlines and descriptions of courses which tend to describe them more fully than the files kept by the Curriculum Committee.

A motion was made to authorize Mr. Woods to proceed with obtaining measured drawings for all buildings on the campus for storage in the Archives.

Mr. Roselle informed the committee of expansion plans for the Archives and Special Collections area with the addition of the Fromkin Collection room outside the present Special Collections room.
