

Recommendation of the University Committee to Revise UWM Faculty Document 2237 (S-0.5) Academic Approval Matrix

RATIONALE:

The Academic Approval Matrix guides the faculty and administration in the creation of undergraduate and graduate courses and degrees, the establishment and elimination of schools and colleges, departments and programs of study, etc.

The proposed revision to the Academic Approval Matrix reflects changes necessitated by changes made in UW System policies and procedures regarding establishing degrees and majors.

Until recently, an Entitlement to Plan a degree/major required an extensive description of the proposed degree, curriculum, courses, faculty resources, and budgetary concerns. This is no longer the case. At present, an Entitlement to Plan (ETP) is a maximum 4-5 page proposal that briefly outlines the:

- i. Need
- ii. General learning outcomes and overview of curriculum
- iii. Relation to Institutional Mission
- iv. Relation to Other UW System Programs
- v. Unusual resources

Once an Entitlement to Plan is approved the faculty then develop a Request for Authorization to Implement document. This document is extremely detailed and provides information on:

- i. Degree requirements
- ii. Courses
- iii. Faculty and facility resources
- iv. Budget
- v. Implementation timelines

At present our Academic Approval Matrix does not differentiate the two processes and therefore both the Entitlement to Plan and Authorization to Implement are vetted through the same approval matrix.

Department Course and Curriculum >> School/College APCC >> UWM Academic Affairs >> Academic Deans >> APBC >> UWM Undergraduate APCC (or Graduate C&C >> UWM Graduate Faculty Committee) >> Faculty Senate (as automatic consent) >> Provost >> Chancellor >> UW System >> and Authorization to Implement also goes >> UW Board of Regents

The opinion of the University Committee is that this routing redundancy is wasteful of both time and energy particularly given the brevity of detailed information in the Entitlement to Plan.

Therefore the University Committee offers the following proposed changes. These changes only concern the Entitlement to Plan processes that take place on our campus. The review processes associated with the Authorization to Implement process would remain unchanged.

The proposed changes would result in the Entitlement to Plan process using the following review matrix:

Department Course and Curriculum >> School/College APCC >> UWM Academic Affairs >> Academic Deans >> APBC (information only) >> UWM Undergraduate APCC (or Graduate C&C >> UWM Graduate Faculty Committee (information only) >> Faculty Senate ((information only) >> Provost >> Chancellor >> UW System.

The University Committee is of the opinion that this change would make the Entitlement to Plan more efficient without sacrificing quality assurance.
